GUARD BECKER TO PREVENT SUICIDE

Accused Police Official Is Under Heavy Watch to Prevent Attempt on Life

EXPECT OTHER MURDERS

Thought Cafe Keeper Who Was Shot in Place of Business Died for "Squealing"

NEW YORK, July 31.—Police Lieut. Charles Becker, indicted for the murder of gambler Herman Rosenthal, was under constant espionage in his cell today. Warden Hangeley of the Tombs, who is responsible for the accused policeman, possible of a guard where he could observe every movement. In addition all who visited him, his lawyer and even his wife were searched before they were permitted to approach the central figure in New York's worst scandal.

Fear Suicide

Hanley said that while he personally did not put any stock in rumors that Becker might commit suicide, he did not "intend taking any unnecessary chances." Becker laughed at the precautions, reiterated his protestations of innocence, and declared he would be able to prove that the case against him was a "gambler's frame-up" when his trial was reached. He also said that William Shapiro, who drove the murder car, had been too close-mouthed for one seeking clemency. Whitman believes that while driving Rose and his gangsters all about town the night of the murder Shapiro heard the entire killing discussed down to its minutest details. The district attorney went to the west side prison today to put Rose, Webber and Vallon through another "third degree."

Expect More Murders

That everyone who "squeals" or aids the authorities in any way in uncovering the trail of graft between the political world and the underworld, will be marked for death, was the firm belief of many interested in New York's great scandal today.

This belief was emphasized by the open declaration that James Verrell, proprietor of the Dante cafe, at 163 West 34th street, who was killed in a fight in his place yesterday, was murdered because he betrayed "Dago Frank" Cicociro to the police. Cicociro is alleged to have been one of the actual murderers of Herman Rosenthal. He used the Dante cafe, a noted resort in the White Light district, as a hang out prior to the killing. Verrell was his firm friend, and quietly loaned him money, and it is alleged that information he gave to the police was the direct cause of the earrest of the accused slayer. Verrell was cursed as a squealer.

Witnesses Fear Death

Rose, Webber and Vallon, confined in the West Side prison, are so apprehensive that they will be murdered that a special guard has been assigned to watch them in their cells.

The amount of the annual graft

collected for permitting gambling in New York, which was fixed at $400,000 and then raised to $2,400,000 a year by Jack Rose, is laughed at today by those who have carefully followed the case. If graft was accepted at all, men who ought to know say the amount was far greater than this.

The rumor was generally circulated

today that if Lieut. Becker, under arrest for murder in the first degree, will make a complete confession of all he knows about gambling in New York and give the names of the men who accepted the money, so that they may be reached, he can have immunity. Whitman, it was rumored, would be willing to protect Becker if he could get the "man higher up" and especially the civilian who is reputed to have distributed the money that did not go to the police, and a state senator, whose name was used by Rose, Webber and Vallon in their confession, as the man who "took care of legislation," designed to take the police force out of politics. Opponents of Whitman say that he is trying to turn the present scandal to his own advantage, as he is ambitious to become either governor, having been a candidate for the nomination two years ago, or mayor, when Gaynor's term expires a year from now.

Job on Becker.

Meanwhile Becker, through his attorney, is preparing his defense. Attorney Hart declares that he will show when the police lieutenant is put on trial he is being jobbed by the confessions. He says that he has in reserve information showing that the killing of Rosenthal was planned directly by Rose and Webber and that they had not consulted Becker as regarding it. The real reason, he said, will be revealed when the case actually comes into court.

CALIFORNIA MOOSE LEAVE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., July 31.—Forty progressives, headed by Governor Hiram Johnson, left for Chicago today to attend the national progressive convention.

Alleged Message of Butt Found Floating

PAWTUCKET, R. I., July 31.—A message purporting to be the last word from Major Archibald Butt, aide to President Taft, was picked up in a bottle off Block Island today, and read as follows:

"April 16.—Mid-ocean—Help—on a raft—Titanic sinking—no water, or food.—Major Butt."

The message was written on a wireless blank, bearing the official imprint of the Titanic. An effort will be made to identify the writing.

The message bearing the date of Tuesday, following the Monday morning when the Titanic went down, was brought here by J. Aiken of North Attleboro, A. J. Logan of New York and W. H. Jones of Paterson, N. J. They said they found the bottle while out sailing. At first they said they were inclined to regard it as a ghastly joke, but on second thought decided to report it.

WISCONSIN GIVEN NO MOOSE SLATE

Roosevelt Men Will Put No Third Party Nominees in Field in Badger State

PLAN NEW ELECTORAL TICKET

No Attempt Will Be Made to Capture Republican Party Electors in Election

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 31.—From a reliable source in the ranks of the Roosevelt party in Wisconsin, it was learned today that the bull moose will not place in the field in this state a candidate for governor or any part of a state or legislative ticket. Moreover, according to the announcement printed here today, the Roosevelt men will likely abandon any idea of capturing the republican electoral ticket and substitute an electoral ticket of their own, and by means of petitions place it on the ballot in a column usable for such purposes.

This announcement it is pointed out, aids in clarifying the situation regarding the re-election campaign of Governor McGovern, who, in the event of the present Roosevelt program being carried out will be opposed on the party ticket by a third party candidate.

The present situation, it is said, brings closer the alliance between McGovern and the Roosevelt progressives and serious conjecture is in the air as to what will be the attitude of Senator La Follette in view of the recent affiliations of McGovern and the Roosevelt men in the Chicago convention.

The reason for the Roosevelt men's determination not to put a third party ticket in the field was stated to be their belief that such action would be treachery to the progressive cause in Wisconsin. This was interpreted today as meaning that the Roosevelt progressives will support McGovern and the regular party ticket. This support will be objectionable to Senator La Follette, who fostered the first term of the present governor, it is pointed out. Contingent on the stand taken by La Follette, many believed today would depend the fate of the McGovern campaign.

POSSE IS AFTER OUTLAW GANG

Big Fight Expected When Sheriff Catches Up with Band of Jail Deliverers

CRAIG, Col., July 31.—A battle that may prove history-making in the annals of western outlawry, is expected when a sheriff's posse overhauls the famous "Hole-in-the-Wall" gang, which is believed to have aided Bill Sartelle, Charles Franzen and Andrew Comstock to escape after the men had saved their way out of jail.

Two of the men are horse thieves who stood off a posse for seven hours on July 13 and who were not taken until the cabin in which they took refuge was dynamited.

The prisoners were furnished with saws and files. With these they sawed a hole under their bunk. They then tunneled through the earth under the jail floor.

A dozen mounted men waited with three saddled horses. When the escaping men appeared, they hastily mounted these and the entire crowd rode away.

Sheriff Ledford at once called out 100 mounted and armed men.

BARTHOLOTT RAPS COLONEL'S STAND

Congressman Says He Does Not Make Protest Against President Taft with Clean Hands

POISONS MINDS OF PEOPLE

Declares Roosevelt's Incendiary Language Is Nothing Short of Criminal

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Coining new metaphors in an attack on Colonel Roosevelt, Representative Bartholdt of Missouri today delivered in the house the second speech of the Taft campaign defense against the "stolen delegates" charges. The Missouriian was even more bitter in his charges against Roosevelt than Representative Mondell, who fired the opening Taft defense gun.

"A crime, unprecedented in its brutality, has been committed against the republican party by those who rashly denounce the national committee and vilify its members without knowing the facts," said Bartholdt.

"Who composed the national committee? Political accident, ephemeral nondescript satellites of a new will-o-the-wisp, brought to the surface by minority primaries? No; they were earnest, high minded men of integrity, experience and standing."

Bartholdt declared the committee was "bulldozed and threatened with being mobbed," by the Roosevelt enthusiasts.

"Most of the contests were bogus, started as an after-thought, devised for the sole purpose of deceiving the public," he asserted. "It is a rule of equity that a man must come into court with clean hands."

"Are not the hands of Roosevelt reeking with the filth of deception? Has he not, as a result of this bunco game, forever forfeited his right to raise a moral issue with anybody on any pretext?"

"The truth has been mortally wounded by poisoned arrows from Oyster Bay, yet our great party cannot be killed by prevarication."

Bartholdt declared that the law punished the Chicago anarchists of the Haymarket riots for "incendiary language."

"Is there no law to reach a prominent offender?" he thundered. "To poison the minds of the people is nothing more than criminal."

The speaker branded Governor Johnson of California as an "alleged republican" and declared Johnson tried to "steal the San Francisco district" from Taft by rushing through a unit rule, statewide primary laws.

"Everyone of the 72 delegates questioned by Roosevelt," the Missouri representative asserted, "was honestly and justly seated. The republican who continues to talk of 'stolen delegates' is only befouling his own nest."

Bartholdt asserted that Roosevelt never intended to abide by the result of the Chicago convention.

"Examine the fingers, which are trying to throttle the republican party," Bartholdt challenged. "In the Columbus speech the name 'republican' was not even mentioned. He came to Chicago with treachery in his heart, and fully determined to bolt. In order to put a new party on its feet it became necessary to run down the old one. He seized the handiest 'big stick' for the work of destruction."

Bartholdt reviewed nearly all of the contests. He was a member of the republican national committee, which heard them. Mondell, who opened the Taft defense, sat on the credentials committee.

STOCK BUYER KILLED

WAUKEGAN, Ill., July 31.—Judge Crittenden, a wealthy stock buyer of this place, was instantly killed late last night when a south-bound passenger train speeding fifty miles an hour, struck his automobile at the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road crossing about eight miles north of here.

CHASE THIEF 2,000 MILES

CALGARY, Alberta, July 31.—The capture of Will Ropp, said by the authorities to be a noted horse rustler and cattle thief, brought to an end a chase of nearly 2,000 miles in which the mounted police spent four months in the wilds of northern Canada.

TAFT NOTIFICATION A SIMPLE AFFAIR

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Mrs. Taft and her son reached Washington from Beverly today, to witness the notification exercises tomorrow. At the White House it was announced that the ceremonies will be devoid of frills. The notification committee, headed by Senator Root will be received by the president and Mrs. Taft on the south portico of the White House. A crowd of 1,000 guests will be on the lawn beneath the porch, to hear Root's speech of notification and Taft's acceptance. Luncheon will be served later.

Fola La Follette To Talk Equal Suffrage

Plans for the entertainment of Misses Fola La Follette and Zona Gale who will speak on woman suffrage at the La Crosse theater Friday night, are being made in society circles today. Miss La Follette is the daughter of Senator Robert M. La Follette and, Miss Zona Gale is a well known suffrage worker. Both are graduates of the Wisconsin university. A male chorus composed of twenty-five Wisconsin university students will sing "On Wisconsin" and other variety songs as part of the program arranged in connection with the speaking.

FAVOR WARNING TO ALL NATIONS

Lodge Resolution Telling Powers to Keep Off America Urged by Committee

IS HINT TO THE JAPANESE

Meant as Suggestion to Nipponese Concerning the Magdalena Bay Trouble

WASHINGTON, July 31.—The Lodge resolution warning nations of the world not to establish military or naval stations on either of the American continents was recommended for passage by the senate by the foreign relations committee today. The measure specifies that such encroachment upon the policy laid down in the Monroe doctrine would be "regarded with grave concern," by the United States.

The real basis of the resolution, which it is expected the senate will adopt without delay, is to warn Japan not to establish a naval or pseudo-commercial base at Magdalena Bay, Mexico. The resolution specifies that foreign corporations or associations, "which have such a relation to another government not American as to give the government practical power of control for national purposes," come within the warning.

CROSS-EXAMINE DARROW TODAY

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 31.—The direct examination of Clarence S. Darrow in his trial on charge of bribing jurors in the McNamara murder case ended half an hour after court opened today and Deputy District Attorney Ford immediately took over the witness for cross examination.

When Darrow took the stand at today's session, he testified that Attorney Harrington, formerly connected with the McNamara defense, stayed at his (Darrow's) house during last November and consulted with Darrow regarding the conduct of the McNamara case. At the same time, said the witness, Harrington was daily visiting Oscar Lawler, special federal attorney engaged in the case, to attack the defense, and was telling Lawler all he knew about Darrow and the McNamara defense.

This closed the direct examination. Several jurors asked the witness minor questions, and then cross-examination started.

Senate Passes Bill Over Taft's Veto

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Following bitter criticisms of President Taft by Senator Cummins, (Rep., Iowa), the senate this afternoon, by a two-thirds vote overturned the executive's veto of a reimbursement bill in favor of sub-contractors on the Shoshone irrigation project and re-passed the measure. The vote was 42 to 17.

This is the first time during Taft's administration that the senate has passed a bill over the president's veto. The measure will now go to the house.

KOLWAY'S FORCES DRIVE BACK REDS

Blues Chase Opponents From Choice Camping Ground After Desperate Struggle

FINAL BATTLE TOMORROW

Last Stand of Reds to Protect Stores at Sparta Will Be Made at Camp McCoy

(By Special War Correspondent)

TOMAH, Wis., July 31.—After a desperate struggle in which almost all the infantry on both sides were engaged the Blue brigade finally forced the Reds to evacuate their strong position at Jackson Pass about five miles southwest of Tomah.

The problem which confronted the Blues yesterday was how to force a passageway to Jackson Pass, a narrow road leading to Sparta. The ultimate aim of the present campaigning is to destroy the Reds' supplies which are stored at Sparta and the biggest stand was made at Jackson Pass between the Lemonweir and La Crosse rivers.

A stubborn resistance was made by the Reds but they were finally forced to retreat, leaving the Blues in possession of a beautiful camp ground just below the Pass. The obstruction offered by the Reds was so strong that it was necessary to throw in the entire Blue forces to make the Reds vacate.

Company B formed part of the main body and Company M was provost guard which kept in the rear of the main column and picked up any stragglers. The wagon train which was about a mile long went to the south to avoid capture but in doing so got into some new country in which bad roads were encountered and bridges had to be built over certain streams.

The last stand of the Reds is expected to be made today at the end of Jackson Pass and the infantry of both rival brigades will be heavily engaged.

It was expected that the Blues would reach Camp McCoy near Sparta this morning and be ready to fight their last big battle tomorrow. The last three days have been one continuous battle and the Blues are confident as to the outcome.

Friday will be pay day for the soldiers and on Saturday the militia will be shipped back home.

AUTO DRIVER HURT

WHEELING, W. Va., July 31.—Elmer McDonald, driving a 200 horse power Benz car, was dangerously injured in crashing through a fence at the state fair grounds this afternoon in the Bob Burman race meet being held here today. Earle Wagner, a local newspaperman, who accompanied McDonald escaped practically unhurt. McDonald is Burman's racing mate. McDonald is now on an operating table at the North Wheeling hospital.

CALLS DES MOINES SODOM

DES MOINES, Iowa, July 31.—Rev. William Boynton Gage of the Highland Park Presbyterian church, preached a sermon in which he likened Des Moines to Sodom. Today Councilman Needham introduced a resolution in the city council resenting the imputation and asking the newspapers not to print "opinions of uninformed men." The resolution failed for want of a second.

ALLEGED MURDERER ARRESTED

CHICAGO, July 31.—Local police officials were notified today that Fred Wanquet, wanted here in connection with the murder of George Hinterberger, a saloonkeeper, was arrested at Milwaukee.

WANTS CANAL BILL SPLIT

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Request that Panama canal legislation be split into separate bills so that the fight over free tolls may not hold up immediate passage of other provisions, was made of the house today by Secretary of War Stimson.

COTTON BILL COMES UP

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Majority Leader Underwood formally announced to the house this afternoon that tomorrow he would call up a cotton tariff revision bill for immediate passage.

LAUDS DECORATIONS OF LA CROSSE NORMAL

M. J. Jackson, principal of the Normal Training school at Grand Rapids, Wis., gave an address on "The Melting Pot of the Nations," at a lecture meeting at the La Crosse State Normal this morning in which he discussed the moulding of foreigners into American citizens and gave a short talk on foreign observations, made during his travels. He complimented La Crosse on the elaborate and beautiful decorations of the normal school building and declared it surpassed any in this respect that he had ever visited.

Uncle Joe Can Wear "Shirt Tail" at Ceremony

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Uncle Joe Cannon called at the White house today. The newspaper men were in a fever of expectation that some big political event might be foreshadowed in the former speaker's visit. The reporter formed a solid phalanx around Uncle Joe as he emerged.

"What did you come here for? Did you talk politics?" they shouted at him.

Cannon paused and chewed his cigar reflectively.

"Well, boys," he said, "I came here just to find out whether I will have to wear my Prince Albert at the notification ceremonies tomorrow, or whether I can come in my shirt tail."

"They told me," he added, "that it was informal, and I could come in the shirt tail," and Uncle Joe beat it.

$25,000 COMPANY TO LOCATE HERE

Independent Oil Firm Gets Permission from City Council to Build on North Side

DUBUQUE MAN IS ORGANIZER

Co-operation of Progressive League Given in Obtaining Site for the Plant

A new $25,000 firm will be established in La Crosse within a short time if present plans materialize. Negotiations for the purchase of a site on the ground formerly occupied by the Holway Lumber company, is now under way and oil tanks will be erected soon if the negotiations can be satisfactorily closed.

The proposed business is the retail sale of oil. W. L. Tust, Dubuque, who is at the head of the new independent enterprise, has made a visit to several cities with a view of locating suitable property for the site and is satisfied with the location recommended.

He spent several weeks in La Crosse a short time ago, and made a tour of the city but was unable to find a satisfactory site at that time. During the convention of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities, Mr. Tust became acquainted with local delegates and was induced to return to La Crosse.

He was then referred to the North Side Progressive league and with their co-operation found a site which will serve all of the purposes. A resolution for the establishment of the business on the proposed site. An option on the land will probably be procured within a few days.

Mr. Tust left for Dubuque last night to confer with other interested in the new project and will return to La Crosse the latter part of the week.

WOULD OUST CONCERNS

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 31.—In a report filed in the supreme court today by Special Commissioner Robert M. Reynolds, it is declared that twenty-nine lumber companies operating in Missouri have violated the state's anti-trust laws and asked that the companies be ousted from the state. The report is a complete victory for the state in its action against the lumber companies.

STAGE HOLD UP IS SUCCESSFUL

$2,500 in Cash and Valuable Jewels Secured by Masked Robbers in California

WILLIAMS, Cal., July 31.—Without money and robbed of all their jewelry, a score of tourists, most of them from the east, proceeded today on their way after a thrilling holdup of an old fashioned stage coach between here and Bartlett Springs. The stage had covered about 35 miles of the journey when masked men jumped out into the road and cocked their revolvers. The driver obeyed the command to stop and the passengers alighted and lined up on one side of the road.

Each of the men and women delivered their money and valuables, and none of them was harmed. When the total collection was tied in a neat bundle the holdup men departed, their loot totalling $2,500 in cash and a large amount of jewelry.

An attempt to spread an alarm at a nearby ranch house disclosed the fact that the robbers had cut the telephone wires before the attack was made. Sheriff Stanton and posse are in search of the bandits.

MAYOR CHARGES GRAFT TO JUDGE

Macon City Executive Cited by Jurist for Contempt Promises Retaliation

DECLARE COURT IS CROOKED

Says Estate Has Been Held Unsettled for 13 Years and Asks His Impeachment

Macon, Ga., July 31.—That Judge Emory Speer of the United States district court will be compelled to defend his action in declaring former Mayor W. A. Huff of this city, in contempt of court for writing him a letter assailing his record on the bench, seemed certain today. In his letter Mayor Huff bluntly told Judge Speer that he intended bringing charges against him in the hope that the house of representatives would predicate impeachment proceedings thereon.

As soon as Speer received it he called off a trip he was about to make to Nova Scotia and sent a bailiff to place Colonel Huff under arrest for contempt of court. The two men had a stormy session in the judge's chambers after which Speer ordered Huff to appear before him today to purge himself of contempt. Colonel Huff insisted today that he will not recede from his position but that he will bring his charges to the attention of congress. He declares that his estate of $150,000 has been in Judge Speer's court for thirteen years in a bankruptcy proceeding and that the judge had been derelict in his duty in failing to settle it.

In his letter to the judge, which has also been sent to the president and members of congress, Colonel Huff insists that he has been patient for thirteen years, but that he now "intends to have justice." He specifically charges that Judge Speer has "improperly juggled the Huff case for the financial benefit of himself, his relatives, special lawyers and others." He alleged that $94,000 of the amount involved has been left in the bank for years without any interest being paid on it. The receiver for the estate, Colonel Huff says, is a brother-in-law of the judge, and is the vice president of this bank. Colonel Huff declares that Judge Speer is a "petticoat pensioner," a "venal and corrupt judge" and "as vicious as he is vain, as sphenetic as he is spectacular, and as crooked as he is cruel and churlish."

BOY LOSES FINGERS

The three year old son of John Semlar, 225 North Twenty-third street, had two fingers on his left hand almost cut off and his little finger cut to the bone when he caught his hand in the chain of a bicycle. His left hand was caught between the chain and the sprocket while he and his brother were playing with the bicycle. Dr. J. H. Rowles attended the boy.

CRANE ON COMMITTEE

BOSTON, July 31.—United States Senator Winthrop Murray Crane was elected national committeeman from Massachusetts for the next four years at the meeting of the republican state committee today. The election devolved upon the committee because of the deadlock in the Massachusetts delegation at the Chicago convention in June.

WEATHER

For La Crosse and vicinity: Fair tonight and Thursday; no decided change in temperature.

For Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa: Fair tonight and Thursday; not much change in temperature.

Weather Conditions

The weather is generally fair in all sections this morning and the temperature and pressure changes have been small during the past 24 hours. The pressure continues highest over the plains states and adjoining Canadian territory and lowest off the north Atlantic coast. A low is developing in the extreme northwest and the temperature is somewhat higher in that section; it is cooler in the upper Mississippi valley.

Light local showers have occurred from the plateau region to the plains states, in the lake region and gulf states. The temperature has continued high in northern Texas, a minimum of 106 degrees being recorded at Abilene yesterday.

Fair weather is indicated for this section tonight and Thursday with moderate temperature.

STEEL DECLARES DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, July 31.—The United States Steel corporation yesterday afternoon declared the regular dividends on the common and preferred stocks. The report of the earnings for the quarter ended June 30 last showed $25,102,625 as compared with $17,826,973 for the quarter ended March 31 last. There was also shown a surplus for the last quarter of $56,483 compared with a deficit for the previous quarter of $6,292,134. The total earnings for the first six months of this year were $42,929,238 as compared with $51,627,723 in 1911.

Most Popular Character.

Charles Dickens once received an invitation to a "Walter Scott" party, each guest being expected to attend in the character of one or another of Scott's heroes. On the evening night, however, greatly to the astonishment of the assembled Rob Roys and Waverleys, Dickens turned up in ordinary evening dress and apparently quite unconcerned. At length the host, who was feeling uneasy, came up to the novelist and inquired:

"Pray, Mr. Dickens, what character of Scott's can you possibly be supposed to represent?"

"Character!" said Dickens. "Why, sir, a character you will find in every one of Scott's novels. I," he went on smilingly, "am the 'gentle reader.'"

Opened His Eyes.

Sweet Master Chaucer Epicus and Amaryllis fair, went strolling by the mill-stream—a most idyllic pair. "My loveliest of loves!" broke forth the swain's excited muse. "Permit me to extol the charms which thus t. soul enthuse. Your little ears, so shelly pink, for lovers' praise were made; no fairy feet than thine more neat, e'er tripped o'er moon-lit glade; your eyes are like twin stars of night; like fine-spun gold's your hair; your lips put Cupid's bow to scorn; your teeth are past compare." But here a playful gust of wind came gayly through the trees, and whisked his darling's hat and hair away upon its breeze! Alas! why did the maiden then permit herself to shout, and cause her lover added pain to see her teeth fall out?

Medical Wiles.

"My doctor says I ought to ride a horse," said the indolent man. "What for?" "I don't know. Maybe he's tired of treating me for dyspepsia and wants a broken collarbone for a change."—Washington Star.

ADVOCATES A PUBLIC PAPER

Editor of Boston Commonwealth
Would Have the Press
Owned by the Commonwealth

MADISON, Wis., July 31.—Livy S. Richard, editor of the Boston Commonwealth, in a speech before the newspaper convention here yesterday, urged a startling change in newspaper methods when he advocated an organ run as a public institution. He declared this to be the only way to obtain an absolutely unbiased report of happenings of the world.

Mr. Richard said in part: "It seems to me that the entire question at issue in this conference hinges upon the point of view. If a newspaper or magazine is private property not especially affected with a public interest; if its conduct is on a par with the undertaking of the grocer, simply the selling of a commodity, then it is none of our business what stock the publisher offers for sale, though, as we require the grocer to be careful how he disperses doped foods, I suppose we may equally ask the police power to draw a line on tainted news."

Question of Democracy
"Back of this, however, is another question. Are we democrats or aristocrats? Do we believe in government of, for and by the people or in government of the people by a representative part of the people chiefly for the benefit of the people who do the governing?"

"If we accept the aristocratic concept, it becomes entirely consistent for us to have a newspaper press which tells us what the governing class thinks is proper for us to know and which suppresses, or distorts or slants the information which that class, from whatever motive, deems unsuited for widespread currency."

To illustrate: I was in Rochester, N. Y., when the panic of 1907 arose. That winter many industries reduced their working force. There were much unemployment, destitution and suffering. The men at the top, the bankers and big advertisers, conspired with the publishers to print misleading fiction about how lovely conditions were, and for months the newspapers there, and, I suspect, elsewhere, were largely filled with humbug.

"It was the same in a small pocket epidemic. The advertisers cried: 'For God's sake, don't print this news or our store trade will be ruined.' And with one exception the Rochester publishers didn't. The exception lost a lot of advertising but he happened to have an absentee financial backing which permitted him to survive. In certain other directions he too, obeys the pull of the special interest string."

Not Entirely Selfish
"In both these instances which are cited simply because they are typical, and which could be multiplied indefinitely, the motive of the suppression was not entirely selfish. It had in it some element of public spirit. It was probably more creditable than that of the typical politician boss of Rochester, who practically censors all important political information printed in the Rochester newspapers. He does this, of course, as bosses usually do, by the expedient of having his banking friends loan the publisher money or by appointing or promising to appoint some one on the paper or the friend of that one to a political berth or by skilful use of the political advertising or by other and more subtle forms of temptation or pressure, the narration of which here would occupy too much time."

"But, whatever the motive it involved, the viewpoint is that the newspaper is a private institution, to be conducted as its owner sees fit; to be used to gull the public if gulling best serves the owner's interest. And it also involves the viewpoint that a selected list of men, the men who are in power may decide without a referendum, what the people at large shall have as news."

Impulse Toward Freedom
"The whole basis of the present insurrection against the controlled press is a democratic impulse toward freedom. Those on the outside are learning, what those on the inside who are socially conscious have long sweated under, that much of our fine rhetoric about the freedom of the press is buncombe; and they are coming to demand of newspaper makers, as of law makers and judges and public servants of every kind, a better brand of public service. They want to know."

"I am not assigned to talk of remedies, to offer constructive suggestions. But I will trespass to say that I believe we shall never get through the woods on this journey until we have the public newspaper. There are some private newspapers today which measure high in public spirit and public service. There will be more tomorrow. If I have emphasized defects it is because we may assume that the virtues of our present press are sufficiently understood. But not until we have the public interest in publicity assured through public newspapers can we have a certainty of public control. The public newspaper is a logical and necessary complement of the public school."

RUSE TO PLEASE MILITARY.
CONSTANTINOPLE, July 31.—The grand vizier asked parliament today to pass a bill authorizing the sultan to dissolve it at pleasure. If it acquiesces, he will dissolve it. If it refuses the cabinet will resign, dissolving it automatically. It is a ruse to satisfy the military league, which insists on a dissolution.

To Have Eyes that Others Rave Over---and Other Beauty Secrets

This is the Seventh of the Series of Beauty Chats by the Famous Self-Made Beauty-Queen of the American Stage, VALESKA SURATT.

The beta-quinol you can get at almost any drug store for not more than fifty cents. I also use it exclusively on my hair. It is a remarkable promoter of hair growth.

THERE is a thrill in the glance of beautiful eyes, a magnetism so powerful as "to take the breath of men away who gaze upon them unawares," as the poet Browning says.

It is not advisable to use this preparation on the eyelashes. For this purpose a little lanolin which you can get at any drug store for a few cents will do, applying a little on the eyelashes every night before retiring.

There is a potential eloquence in Crow's feet, in spite of the fact that they are the most persistent wrinkles which we have to deal with, can be promptly eliminated. There is absolutely nothing I know of as pleasing, so remarkably effective as the following recipe, and as I have told you before, I have tried almost everything suggested and printed in the beauty books to no purpose. I also use this on my face, thereby giving Father Time an awful tussle trying to put his brand upon me. He has not succeeded yet. Here is the secret:

In one-half pint of boiling water pour two tablespoonfuls of glycerine. In a few minutes add two ounces of eptol and continue stirring until all is dissolved. At first it will look like jelly, then it will start to cream. When it does this, remove from the fire and stir constantly until cold. Keep in air-tight jar. You should be able to get eptol at any good drug store and it should not cost you more than fifty cents.

Apply this cream every morning with the tips of the fingers, after washing your face with very warm water and soap. Rub in well every eye, but we do not take the trouble to develop it. The eye is as a rule neglected in the development of the things which give it brightness and beauty.

The most beautiful woman's face would look hideous if the head were entirely bald. The face must have a frame for the picture and Nature gives us a wealth of hair. The same holds true of the eye. No eye can be beautiful if the brows and lashes are sparse, if dark circles appear, and wrinkles add an appearance of decrepitude. The eyes must have a frame, and that frame must be beautiful.

I will give you here my secret for making the eyebrows grow long, silky and luxuriant. It will not fail you if you are persistent with it.

With a half-pint of water mix half a pint of alcohol. To this add one ounce of beta-quinol. Shake thoroughly, and it will then be ready to use. If you prefer you can use imported bay rum instead of the water and alcohol.

I apply this every night on my eyebrows, using a small brush afterward so that every particle of the preparation will reach the roots of the hair. In the morning I simply draw another little brush, dipped in water, and with a little soap, across the eyebrows and in this way keep them clean and silky during the day.

Soon you will notice the eyebrows growing beautifully, and if you brush them carefully as I have suggested they will be as beautiful in their lines as the wings of a swallow.

until the cream has disappeared. This cream will not grow hair. I have now given you three simple things to do, for your eyes, and if you will do them, I can assure you that you, as well as your friends will notice the astonishing difference.

"SO RED": You can make your hands pearly white and beautiful if you will use the following. Household work will make the hands red and rough, unless you take care of them. Plenty of women still keep their hands in splendid condition in spite of their activities in the household.

Boil half a pint of water. Add two tablespoonfuls of glycerine. Keep stirring, while adding one ounce of zintone, until it is all dissolved. Then let cool. If the cream is too thick to pour easily from a bottle, thin it down a little with more hot water. The cream will be white and satiny. Rub this cream on the arms and hands liberally. Let the cream dry. Repeat this again at night. Any good druggist will sell you an ounce of zintone for not more than fifty cents.

MARJORIE: The electric needle for removing superfluous hair is too expensive, too painful and takes too long. You can accomplish the result most beautifully by getting at any good drug store one ounce of what is called sulfo solution. It will cost you one dollar, but it will last you quite a while. Apply this solution freely with the finger tips on the hair moist with the oil until it has shriveled up. This will take but two or three minutes. Then wipe off with a warm, damp cloth and wash the skin with warm water and apply a face cream. This will not harm or irritate the skin in any manner. It is almost magic.

Its main purpose is to finance the government, avoiding the necessity of borrowing abroad.

WOMAN LEAPS OFF TOWER.
PARIS, July 31.—The police are trying today to identify by her clothing the young woman who jumped yesterday from the topmost to the second platform of the Eiffel tower, 525 feet, and was crushed past recognition.

WRECK KILLS TWO.
PUEBLO, Col., July 31.—Two trainmen are dead today and several passengers injured as the result of the derailment of the Chicago express on the Rock Island, in the northern northern part of the city last night. The derailment resulted when a cloudburst washed out the tracks that ran along Fourteenth river.

NEGROES VISIT WILSON

TRENTON, N. J., July 31.—A delegation of negroes from the United Negro Democracy of New Jersey called on Gov. Wilson yesterday afternoon, told him their organization felt that they could not support Taft, that it did not want to support Mr. Roosevelt, and would like to know his views on the negro question.

Gov. Wilson replied that he knew and sympathized with the negro because of his southern birth and upbringing, and that as the campaign progressed he had no doubt his fairness to classes and all races would be clearly demonstrated.

START CHINESE BANK.

SHANGHAI, July 31.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen and ex-Minister of War Huang Sing concluded arrangements today to establish a bank here, capitalized at $10,000,000.

Excitement is high in Detroit as a result of the graft charges which have been flying fast in the City of the Straits. It is alleged that at least ten and perhaps thirteen aldermen are guilty of having accepted bribes from the Wabash railroad, in connection with the closing of a street. The names of the men under arrest are: President Glinnan, of the council; Louis Tossy, Louis Brozo, Andrew Walsh, David Rosenthal, Martin J. Ostrowski, Alois P. Deimal, Joseph Theisen, Frank J. Wason, and E. R. Schreiter.

NOT SO FOREIGN

AS THEY SEEM

In most of the great cities of the United States the proportion of the population which is composed of two classes—the foreign born and the native born who are of foreign parent-age—looms tremendously large to the average American who glances

at the official figures.

He reads that in New York this part of the population is 78.6 per cent; that it is equally great in Milwaukee; that in Chicago the foreign born and the native born children of foreign born parents constitutes

77.5 per cent of the whole number of inhabitants, and that in Cleveland

the proportions are 74.8 per cent. He finds in Boston those inhabitants

who are foreign by birth or by parentage are 74.2 per cent and in Detroit 74 per cent of the total with other large cities ranging down from 71.2 per cent in Buffalo to 69.9 per cent in Newark, 69.7 in Jersey City,

68.3 per cent in San Francisco and 67.2 per cent in Minneapolis.

But in one vital point these figures do not mean as much as they seem to signify. They are based upon the curious assumption that the native born son or daughter of parents one of whom is native born

and the other foreign born ought to be considered of foreign rather than

of native parentage.

There are great numbers of Americans of such mixed parentage and the majority of them have native

born mothers and foreign born fathers, immigration being always composed more largely of men than of women. The sons and daughters of these native born mothers grow up

under such influences and in homes

Country Style
Some folks they want the city, the big city suits 'em fine. But as long as I've the choosin' it's the country ways for mine: It's the milk all warm an' foamy, an' all creamy at the morn. An' the table in the kitchen of the house where I was born. With the rag rug underneath it an' the dog curled by the stove, An' the singin' of the wild birds in the trees out in the grove, An' the antics of the baby in its chair to make me smile, An' a platter full o' chicken, tender chicken country style.

Gimme lettuce crisp an' tender like they never git in town. An', say, mebbe about lunch time, half an hour to go sit down. Underneath the spreadin' branches of a big old live oak tree, With a thick old homemade sandwich an' some salt, an' two or three Young onions for a relish, that's the essence of delight! With the baby down beside you gurgle-goo'n' for a bite, An' the dog alert before you tryin' of his best to smile, That's the way I like my lunch served, free an' easy, country style.

When I go up to the city an' eat at a restaurant, The flames they tack on their eatin' are the worst I ever saw, Frenchified or Dago lingo that a man can't understand— What d'y'e s'pose I ordered last time? Ordered music by the band! Yes, sir! Swear I felt plum foolish, waiter standin' by my side While I squinted at the menu, an' I tried an' tried an' tried For to understand the readin', I just tried the longest while To pick out the line that looked most like "Spring chicken, country style."

"Bring a plate of this," I told him, pointin' where my thumb was at. An' he said he couldn't do it, 'cause the band was playin' that! That's the time you bet I wanted the old table by the door In the kitchen, an' I wanted the rag carpet on the floor. An' the high chair, an' the baby gurgle-goo'n' to a smile, An' a helter-skelter dinner cooked an' served up in country style, An' to then fill my pipe up as the crows come traillin' in, An' start out to do the milkin' with pork gravy on my chin. —Houston Post.

Pat Scores
One fine autumn day as Pat was strolling down a country road he spied a baker's van in the distance. Feeling very hungry, and having no money, he hit upon a plan to get his dinner and yet not steal it. Going up to the van, he waited till the baker had gone into a house, and then Pat took out two loaves of bread and began balancing them in his hand. The baker, who soon noticed this, rushed out to Pat, and asked why he was doing that. "Shure," said Pat, "I was seeing whether your loaf or mine were the heavier." "Well," said the baker, "take your loaf and clear out of this." The next minute Pat was at the end of the neighboring field having his dinner, and chuckling over his success. —C. T.

The Impoliteness of Curiosity
The goose had been carved and everybody had tasted it. It was excellent. The negro minister, who was the guest of honor, could not restrain his enthusiasm. "Dat's as fine a goose as I evah see, Bruddah Williams," he said to his host. "Whar did you get such a fine goose?" "Well, now, pahson," replied the carrier of the goose, exhibiting great dignity and reticence, "when you preaches a spechul good sermon, I never axes you whar you got it. I hopes you will show me de same consideration." —Popular Magazine.

Never Wint Back
"Why did you leave your last place?" said a country squire to an Irish applicant for the post of valet. "Because the man av the house was no gentilmán!" was the reply. "What did he do?" said the squire. "He locked me out av my room, an' trowed me clo'es out av the windy, an' called in an officer an put me out av the house by main force, an' he gorry, Oi left an' never went back!" replied the Irishman.

HILL AFTER IRON COMPANY
DENVER, Colo., July 31.—Information received in Denver today indicates that James J. Hill and the interests associated with him in the Great Northern Ore company are negotiating for the acquisition of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company. Mr. Hill's plan is said to be the acquisition of the Colorado company as a market for the immense output of the ore beds along the line of the Great Northern railroad.

WOULD HUNT POISON
CATSKILL, N. Y., July 31.—While the body of Miss Dorcas Ijam Snodgrass, found in Catskill creek, eleven days after she disappeared, today was being shipped from Mount Vernon to the old family home in Martinsburg, W. Va., District Attorney Wilbur and Coroner Vandenberg were considering the advisability of asking the family for permission to remove and examine the viscera of the young woman to search for poison.

REPARTEE OF THE OWL CAR
Everybody who rides on the Brooklyn avenue owl car knows "Old Si," the conductor, and "Old Si" knows everybody on the line and never fails to put his passengers off at the right corner. He is blunt in speech, but witty. Last Sunday night several couples of young people living out near Thirty-first street boarded the car and began laughing and talking in loud tones, trying to "kid" every one on the car. Finally one of the youths spied "Old Si," whose shirtfront was somewhat worse for a hard days wear. "Say Mister Conductor," he shouted, "why didn't you put on a clean shirt tonight for Sunday?" and his companions guffawed. "Si," never hesitated a second, but came back with this: "Because you were not at home and your mother had no one to send my washing by." The crowd bellowed, and the young folks got off at Troost avenue and transferred. —Kansas City Star.

BROWN DERBY

by
WELLS HASTINGS
Author of
The Professor's Mystery
Copyright, 1911 by Bobbs-Merrill Co.

From my wakeful upper berth that night, once or twice I heard an audible and reminiscent chuckle from that middle-aged adventuresome fellow me, a soothing chuckle that, I think, was largely responsible for a mental relaxation which brought sleep to me; an uneasy sleep, to be sure, but one from which I awoke refreshed, to find Mrs. Lathrop already up and waiting for me as we drew into Syracuse.

We breakfasted in the station, and had an uneventful three hours' trip to Winford. Winford, like many other little towns in upper New York state, looked as if it had been picked up whole by some careful hurricane, and being torn from its New England roots, had been gently dropped upon its present site. There was the same long village street, that split on two sides of a tree-arched, common green. The houses were white or yellow, commodious and comfortable, set apart with broad elbow room and approached by little, box-bordered walks. Big rambling houses they were, whose low attached kitchens led into still lower, but still attached, wood-sheds, which gave in turn upon barns almost as large as the houses themselves, and furnished snug and covered ways between the two-footed and the four-footed worlds, ways that must have been grateful enough on bowling blizzard nights. And behind them we could see the bowered beauty of helter-skelter gardens, commencing already to bloom with the sweet, old-fashioned, familiar flowers that gladdened dead an bygone eyes in the ays when America was American.

"Pretty, isn't it?" said Mrs. Lathrop. "Pretty and quiet and peaceful. I feel sometimes as if I would like nothing better than to live in a town like this for always, and then I know perfectly well that I couldn't. I don't know what it is, perhaps it is too peaceful; sort of like a cemetery."

I drew a long breath of the sweet air, that bore faintly the indescribable smell of box and the faintly cloying, unearthly fragrance of lilies of the valley. "I know what you mean," I said. "I think it is because we have lived so long away that we feel uncomfortable among once intimate and unheeded ghosts."

For a little while both of us walked on in silence. Then Mrs. Lathrop shrugged her shoulders as if she were shrugging back common sense.

"Are you just going for a walk through the town," she asked, "or have you any definite place in mind?"

"I thought I would go to the post-office first," I said. "I have a letter to write and mail and, if there are lodgings to be had in town, we shall be apt to find notice of them there."

"I guess you're right," said Mrs. Lathrop, and for a while we walked on again in silence.

The post-office we found, as I had half expected, a branch industry of the general store. I bought paper and envelopes and, while Mrs. Lathrop poked about and asked questions of the proprietor, I sat down, by his invitation, at the post-office desk and wrote a letter to my friend, Mr. Ogilby, telling him of my letter from Nancy, my encounter with Mr. Stevens, and our journey here, and dropped it sealed and addressed into the convenient mail bag that hung open-mouthed on my side of the mail chute.

"Now you come right along, Mr. Ellsworth," said Mrs. Lathrop when I had finished writing. "You see," she continued animatedly, when we left the store, "I know as much about the town now as if I was the official guide. There isn't anybody can tell you so much about folks as the village postmaster, especially since postal-cards have got so popular. This one is a pretty talkative man, too, so that now I know nearly as much as he does. There is a sort of hotel a few doors farther on, but I don't think that we had better go there. From all I can make out, it isn't used by much of anybody except the cheap kind of traveling men that come to such little places as this, and they're as talkative as the dressmaker. The way they sell their goods is to throw in a free budget of all the news that has happened in three states and we would be entirely too interesting to them. But there's a little place farther on where they take summer boarders, and that will look much more natural. Even so, you had better register under another name."

"Have you anything to suggest?" I asked.

"I'll lend you mine. You can write yourself down as John Lathrop, and we'll tell them you're my nephew. I'll adopt you as my nephew right now, so there won't be any lie about it."

"Thank you, Aunt Sally," I said. "I'll try to be a good nephew to you. As a matter of fact, I always have regretted my lack of an aunt."

"That's very nice of you, John," said Mrs. Lathrop.

We registered therefore as Mrs. Sarah Lathrop and John Lathrop of New Haven, Connecticut, a city we both knew well enough to answer questions about. Being early com-

WHEN SHE PLEADS FOR ALMA MATER
EVEN CRUSTY OLD BACHELORS DIG UP

Miss Mattie Morris.

Miss Mattie Morris, a graduate of Bessie Tift college in Georgia, has started out to raise $100,000 for her alma mater. She is having remarkable success, and already has pledges for $50,000. Her arguments with Georgia business men are proving irresistible, and even crusty old bachelors dig up when she pleads with them. Miss Morris graduated in 1910 and is hardly out of her teens.

ers, we got good rooms in the front of the house, and at luncheon had the dining-room mostly to ourselves. "We have come to the right place," said Mrs. Lathrop, as we got up from table.

"Yes, it's very decent," I answered. "I mean the right town," said Mrs. Lathrop. "I thought I'd let you get your luncheon in peace, John, before telling you. But I was looking out of my window just before I came down, and there went that Doctor Morrison walking up the street as bold as brass, and scowling as though he had a grudge against all the world."

"I guess you're right," said Mrs. Lathrop, and for a while we walked on again in silence.

The post-office we found, as I had half expected, a branch industry of the general store. I bought paper and envelopes and, while Mrs. Lathrop poked about and asked questions of the proprietor, I sat down, by his invitation, at the post-office desk and wrote a letter to my friend, Mr. Ogilby, telling him of my letter from Nancy, my encounter with Mr. Stevens, and our journey here, and dropped it sealed and addressed into the convenient mail bag that hung open-mouthed on my side of the mail chute.

"Now you come right along, Mr. Ellsworth," said Mrs. Lathrop when I had finished writing. "You see," she continued animatedly, when we left the store, "I know as much about the town now as if I was the official guide. There isn't anybody can tell you so much about folks as the village postmaster, especially since postal-cards have got so popular. This one is a pretty talkative man, too, so that now I know nearly as much as he does. There is a sort of hotel a few doors farther on, but I don't think that we had better go there. From all I can make out, it isn't used by much of anybody except the cheap kind of traveling men that come to such little places as this, and they're as talkative as the dressmaker. The way they sell their goods is to throw in a free budget of all the news that has happened in three states and we would be entirely too interesting to them. But there's a little place farther on where they take summer boarders, and that will look much more natural. Even so, you had better register under another name."

"Have you anything to suggest?" I asked.

"I'll lend you mine. You can write yourself down as John Lathrop, and we'll tell them you're my nephew. I'll adopt you as my nephew right now, so there won't be any lie about it."

"Thank you, Aunt Sally," I said. "I'll try to be a good nephew to you. As a matter of fact, I always have regretted my lack of an aunt."

"That's very nice of you, John," said Mrs. Lathrop.

We registered therefore as Mrs. Sarah Lathrop and John Lathrop of New Haven, Connecticut, a city we both knew well enough to answer questions about. Being early com-

of the town, and that the inquisitiveness of new arrivals would soon be brought to their notice. So, although the only plan we thought of was an indirect and a slow one, yet we chose it for its very safety. It consisted simply in having ourselves driven about the country in our easy role of summer visitors, and in asking questions of the driver about every place we passed. It was late in the afternoon before we found it, an innocent-looking place enough, I suppose, but to me, knowing what I did, and with the thought of Nancy shut up there, it seemed as menacingly dismal as the House of Usher.

NELSONS CAPTURE CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeat Rubber Mills Team at Copeland Park by the Score of 6 to 1

A large crowd saw the Nelson Clothing company and the Rubber Mills indoor baseball teams, which were tied for first place in the baseball league, at Copeland Park, play the game which decided the championship last evening. The Nelsons won the combat and the championship by defeating their opponents by the count of 6 to 1.

Knuteson, who toed the slab for the Nelsons, pitched a wonderful game holding the hard hitting Rubber Mills team hitless during the nine innings. He was given good support and his effective twirling kept the Rubber Mills from doing any batting, most of the chances being easy for the Nelsons.

The Nelsons took an early lead which they maintained easily throughout the game. The Bettin brothers were the battery for the Rubber Mills. Clow was behind the bat for the Nelsons and he caught a good game.

DEMOCRAT IN CHAIR OF MOOSE MEETING

NEW YORK, July 31.—John M. Parker of New Orleans, a democrat, probably will be permanent chairman of the national progressive convention in Chicago next week. Senator Dixon, Col. Roosevelt's campaign manager, said that a democrat would act as permanent chairman, and that Mr. Parker in all probability would be the man.

JOURNALISTS PLAN DUELS

MADRID, July 31.—Because Fernandez Arias made the better showing in a duel yesterday with the Marquis of Villamagna, it is said today that at least a dozen combats will follow. Villamagna challenged Arias, a newspaper man, for attacking the aristocracy. They fought with swords. Arias was slightly wounded, but Villamagna may die. Dissatisfied with the outcome, other noblemen showered Arias with challenges. There are so many that he cannot accept them all, so journalistic friends will take care of the overflow.

MIKADO TOO MODERN

ADVISERS ARE WORRIED THAT HE WILL ANTAGONIZE SOME OF ELDER STATESMEN WHO ARE HOLDING BACK

TOKIO, July 31.—His advisers are said in diplomatic circles today to be much worried lest the new mikado prove undiplomatically up to date in his policies. It is to tell the members that he means to be a strictly modern ruler that his majesty wants parliament called in extra session.

The group nearest to the throne has no objection to modernity, but a strong element in the country thinks the nation has been getting away from the best ideals in recent years. The elder statesmen, a great power in the land, are particularly backward in their views. Much tact is necessary to avoid antagonizing.

Mutsuhito was an adept at pursuing modern methods, while seeming to cherish everything ancient. Yoshihito's training has been strictly on present day lines and it is feared he may do or say something impolitic.

ORIGIN OF FAMOUS PHRASE

Belief that Common Political Term Sprang From a Horse Race Held in Tennessee.

The political term "dark horse" is thought to have had its origin in the following circumstances: In the last century there lived in Tennessee a "character" named Flynn, an elderly person who dealt in horses. Flynn generally contrived to own a speedy nag or two for racing purposes if he could arrange for "a good thing" during his peregrinations throughout the state.

The best of Flynn's flyers was a coal black stallion named Dusky Pete, almost a thoroughbred and able to go in the best of company. One day Flynn visited a town where a race meeting was in progress. He entered Pete. The people, knowing nothing of the horse's antecedents and not being over impressed by his appearance, backed the local favorite heavily against the stranger.

Just as the beasts were being saddled for the race, a certain Judge McMinn, who was the "oracle" of that part of the state, arrived on the course and was made one of the race judges.

As he took his place on the stand he was told of the folly of the owner of the strange entry. Running his eye over the track the judge instantly recognized Pete. "Gentlemen," said McMinn, "there's a dark horse in this race, as you'll soon find out." He was right. Pete, "the dark horse," lay back until the three-quarter pole was reached, when he went to the front with a rush and won the race.

REBELS WIN WITH STOLEN U.S. ARMS

Ammunition and Guns Taken from American Colonists Defeat Mexican Federals

EL PASO, Texas, July 31.—With ammunition seized from the Americans at Casas Grandes, Pearson and the Mormon colonies, General Salazar's rebel forces have driven General Blanco and his federal army of 1,500 from Ojitos into the mountains of Sonora, after a desperate battle which lasted two days. This was the word which reached here today.

For nearly a week the rebels had been concentrating their forces at Corralitos to march against Blanco, who was entrenched at Ojitos, awaiting Col. Sanjines with reinforcements. Forced marches overland from Corralitos to Ojitos were made Sunday by the rebels, the rebel cavalry riding Mormon horses, and the infantry carrying many guns of American colonists.

The battle was a severe one, with the issue in doubt until the last hour, when the federals finally broke for the mountains, leaving many dead in the narrow pass at Ojitos. Rebel losses also were heavy, but rebel leaders at Casas Grandes refuse to give the number killed.

IS DEMAND FOR ORANGEWOOD

Trees Sacrificed for Building Sites in San Gabriel Valley in California.

The sale of orangewood is a new and profitable industry, which is being developed by the owners of Michillinda tract in the San Gabriel valley. The wood is being cleared from building sites in the subdivisions and it is being sold for $22 a cord. It is said to be used in the manufacture of manure implements.

The orangewood harvest is something new in real estate tracts. Usually wherever an orange tree grows it is something to be cherished and protected, but at Michillinda there are whole groves and some of them must be sacrificed to allow space for building.

Through a remarkable orchard system established by the former owners of the Michillinda site many of the choicest building lots now afford a selection of orange, lemon and tangerines. Thus the builder may establish his home in a grove of semi-tropical trees, where he may select his breakfast grapefruit or orange as it hangs on the trees outside his dining room window.

Already the orangewood which has been sold from this suburb has netted more than $2,000 and this from trees cut for the drives and streets through the residential park.—Los Angeles Express.

NOBILITY HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Man, Wife and Nephew Who Claim Italian High Birth in Jail in Detroit, Mich.

DETROIT, Mich., July 31.—Mme. Anita Halliday Antona, known to Detroit society as Countess Antona, author and teacher, and her husband, Count Alessandro Giuseppe Antona, and his nephew, Angelo Villa, today reiterated their denials from behind prison bars that they were responsible in any way for the death of their housekeeper, Miss Lizzie Fleming, 63, of Frazersburg, Ohio. The Antonas, who claim to be members of the Italian nobility, were locked up after five hours of grueling cross examination by the prosecuting attorney.

The case is one of the most mysterious that has come to the notice of the local police department in some time. Miss Fleming died on July 4 after a short illness. The day following her body was cremated. A few days previous to her death she made a will leaving $1,800 she had saved with the exception of a few dollars, to Mrs. Antona. Her relatives in Ohio were not notified of her death, and did not learn of it until three weeks afterward.

Lucky to Get Anything.

The law of the land had spoken, and the verdict was $5,000 damages. "Five thousand dollars!" muttered the senior partner in the legal firm who had managed the plaintiff's case. "Not so bad."

"I think it pretty good," said the junior partner. "How much shall we give our client?" "H'm! Say $300," said the senior thoughtfully. "No, stop a minute!" "Well?"

"We mustn't be too hasty," said the successful lawyer slowly. "Perhaps you'd better write and promise to pay him the three hundred."

AGED LUMBERMAN DIES

THIRD SLATE IS MISSOURI PLAN

Show-me Roosevelt Supporters Will Have Complete Ticket for All State Offices

KANSAS CITY, July 31.—The progressive party of Missouri will hold a convention in St. Louis September 2, to nominate a full state ticket. A resolution to this effect was adopted by the convention here at midnight and today the question of placing congressional and county tickets was discussed. As the legal number of voters required to place a ticket on the ballot is a petition of 1,000 the convention in St. Louis will consist of this number of delegates.

The progressive party in Missouri will stand firmly by its own electors in the fall elections and made it plain that it will not seek to control any Taft electors. The convention selected delegates instructed for Roosevelt to the Chicago convention, elected a national committeeman and adopted a progressive platform.

Tantalum Pens.

Pens for writing purposes are being manufactured today in Germany by a process which is exciting some curiosity. The trouble found with steel pens is that they oxidize easily and the ink sticks to them. This fault is not to be found with gold pens; but, on the other hand, these are too flexible to be entirely satisfactory. Moreover, in order to form a point suitable for writing purposes, the material of that part of the pen has to be mixed with some hard metal like iridium and this operation is both complicated and expensive. This new pen is of tantalum and comes to the manufacturer in the form of a black powder. The pen that is made from this has the tenacity of steel and the flexibility of gold.—Harper's Weekly.

AEROPLANE TURTLES

GRAND FORKS, N. D., July 31.—Aviator Frank W. Bell of St. Louis and George A. Kolb, parachute jumper, had narrow escapes yesterday when the former's biplane, from which Kolb was to make a parachute jump, capsized and threw its passengers to the ground.

INSURGENT HEAD CLAIMS VICTORY

Leader of Rebellious Woodmen Stops in La Crosse and Tells of Gains by the "Kickers"

John L. Sundean of Minneapolis, campaign manager of the National Modern Woodmen assembly, stopped off in La Crosse yesterday evening on his way from Wabasha, Minn., to Caledonia.

Mr. Sundean said the the Woodmen insurgent fight is making great headway and that the head officers are forced to resort to the most extreme tactics to make a favorable appearance. Mr. Sundean claims that the head officers are paying local clerks a special fee for getting existing members to transfer to the new plans. The local camp pays the clerk $1.00 per year per member for performing all duties of his office, but to get these local clerks to work up approval of the new rates an extra allowance is made to them by the head camp.

Unanimous Against Rates.

Mr. Sundean says that at all his meetings the sentiment is unanimous against the new rates. But he claims the insurgents have been much misrepresented. The general feeling among them is for some increase in rates, but the head officers try to make it appear that they are opposed to any increase.

Under the new plans the campaign manager contends that out of every $3.50 collected $1.00 will go to pay death claims and $2.50 goes to the surplus fund.

Will Take Up Plans.

At the convention in La Crosse August 20 and 21 the details will be fully discussed both as to rates and plans for the fight. On Tuesday afternoon, August 20, at 2 o'clock, Mr. Sundean will give a black board talk on the rate question in Linker's hall, which will be open to the public.

GRAFTERS GRANTED DELAY

DETROIT, Mich., July 31.—When the ten city officials accused of graft were brought into court today the prosecution asked that the arraignment be postponed a week, as the warrants for aldermen were not ready as yet. Justice Jeffries granted the request.

"You say Miss Van Gubbs inherited that lively complexion?" "Yes; her father was a painter, too."

CODY SHOW BEGAN NEW TYPE CIRCUS

Constant Action in an Exhibition Was First Exploited by Buffalo Bill

Buffalo Bill in all his glory will arrive in La Crosse tomorrow morning to give his exhibition of wild west and far east stunts. The show will give two performances, afternoon and evening, on the grounds at Eighteenth and Market streets. There will be no street parade, it being one of the policies of the big exhibition to keep the animals as fresh as possible for their arduous work in the arena. Buffalo Bill will appear in person as managing arctic director, and will be accompanied by his "side partner," Pawnee Bill, another famous scout of the early days.

Over a quarter of a century ago, the east was startled by the bringing to its door an exhibition of co-existent peoples and contemporaneous history, the distinguishing traits of which are Action! Action!

It was Buffalo Bill's Wild West and the people presented were, from force of habit, agile, nimble specimens of nature's highest handiwork, aided in a briskness of movement, necessitated by the quick-action life and death episodes attendant on their existence.

The Indian and pony with a mobility and speed of the antelope, the scout and frontiersman, with horses as fleet as the lightning's flash, were the factors that electrified the spectators who crowded the largest race tracks to see Scout "Bill" Cody in the saddle and that most picturesque of the world's savage races, the American Indian on horseback.

This was the school of naturalness that taught the exhilaration and the charm, injected by the rapidity of action.

The rake and the brush-broom that used to kill time in the arena, when the overture "between the acts" took place and the grand concert lulled the auditor to sleep, during the intermission, were relegated to the scrap-heap. Since then, from the arena to the ball field, from the tan bark track and the old London ring style, to the Queensbury rules, there has been an evolution from snail's pace to the electrifying speed that came riding in with the original Wild West's rapid action.

Its method awakened the slumberers in production's dreamland, to be hailed with peans of joy from the lovers of ginger, snap and go. This carnival of the brisk and breezy, is carried out by its ally, in educational aim and object, "Pawnee Bill's Far East" in an active competitive spirit.

From the old scout's "Are you ready, go!" the congress of rough riders and assembly of worlds races and nations, through all the thrilling episodes, Indian battle scenes, military maneuvers, fox hunt, pony express feats of horsemanship, wild bucking riders, Hante, école artist, whirlwind Russian dancers, flip flapping Arabs, athletic Japs, quadrilles on horseback, marksmanship, elephantine marvels by the queen of Pachyderms, Gruber's "Minnie"; high jumping hurdles, etc., etc.; two hours of satisfying, instructive and delightful pageantry of speed and continuous soul-stirring action.

Not a half minute slow—every second action.

SOCIETY

PICNIC AT ROSE COTTAGE

Miss Aletha Rose entertained the members of the German Literary club at an all day picnic at Rose cottage. A feature of the day was gathering famous lotus blossoms which abound near the cottage. The Tuesday Embroidery club and a few invited guests went to Dakota park yesterday for a picnic. There were twenty in the party.

MRS. SHERMAN ENTERTAINS

Mrs. C. H. Sherman entertained this afternoon at a tea given in honor of Mrs. A. J. Whipple of New York, who is an old friend of the hostess. The decorations were white and green, the dainty milkweed being arranged in an artistic manner, with asparagus ferns over archways and in huge masses on the mantle and table.

The assisting ladies were Mrs. Andrew Lees, Mrs. J. M. Hixon, Miss Crosby and Mrs. W. R. Montague. Miss Elizabeth Whipple served as page, admitting the guests.

OUTINGS

The birthday of Mrs. A. J. Whipple of New York was observed yesterday by a picnic and motor ride, the party going above Onalaska, where supper was served. In the party were Mrs. Whipple, Mrs. Northum, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hixon, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Anderson, Mrs. C. S. Sherman, Mrs. W. E. Sawyer, Mr. Espersen and Mr. F. P. Hixon.

LAUNCH RIDES

Mrs. O. J. Sorenson gave a launch ride today to about thirty of her friends, going on the Otto launch to Grabhorn Springs. In the party were Mesdames Thomas Ives, J. R. Robertson, C. N. Dunham, S. S. Hebbard, C. A. Olberg, Homer Hart, Jr., E. L. Spicer, George Longbrake, Chamberlain, Roberts, A. B. Moll, Alfred Harrison, Hill, Woodcock, T. P. Benton, W. A. Pryor, J. E. Wilson, A. O. Hunt, Fred A. Smith, B. O'Connell, T. Evjen, Horn, Frank Sisson, E. S. Hebbard, C. F. White, D. R. Drake and S. B. Oatman.

RUSH TO ALTAR AS CHAPERON NODS

Suddenly deciding to get married at once and leaving their chaperon, Mrs. J. A. Johnson, 2220 Emerson avenue south, Minneapolis, sitting in the court house park, Glenn V. R. Thompson, 606 Ridgewood avenue, Minneapolis, son of A. E. Thompson, and Beatrice Harriet Blenkhorn, daughter of Mrs. Harriet Blenkhorn, 2636 Colfax avenue south, hurried to Christ Episcopal church, Ninth and Main streets, where they were married by the rector, Rev. William E. Johnson.

The marriage was the culmination of a romance which began when the two young people attended the Central high school, Minneapolis, a few years ago. More than a week ago, with Mrs. Johnson as chaperon, and her son, Ben Johnson, and Miss Helen Raymond of Saskatchewan as guests the young people started on an automobile tour of Minnesota. They crossed the river into La Crosse, where the idea of a hasty marriage was carried out.

"I suppose they thought there was no time like the present," said Mrs. Blenkhorn today. "I have seen it coming, and I don't think Mrs. Johnson was surprised. It is all right and all's well that ends well."

Mr. Thompson was a former resident of this city and popular among the young set. He was also prominent in musical circles.

LUNCHEON AT THE COUNTRY CLUB

Remarkable Home Treatment for All Foot Troubles

This information will be welcomed by the thousands of victims of daily foot torture. Don't waste time. Get it at once. No matter how many patent medicines you have tried in vain this treatment, which was formerly known only to doctors, will do the work. "Dissolve two table-spoonsful of Calocide compound in a basin of warm water. Soak the feet for full fifteen minutes, gently rubbing the sore parts." The effects are marvelous. All pain goes instantly and the feet feel simply delightful. Corns and callouses can be peeled right off; bunions, aching feet, sweaty smelling feet, get immediate relief. Use this treatment a week and your foot troubles will be a thing of the past. Calocide works through the pores and removes the cause. Get a twenty-five cent box from any druggist, usually enough to cure the worst feet.

TOURING STATE ON MOTORCYCLE

Field Worker Visits Wisconsin Cities in Behalf of Anti-Tuberculosis Association

SHOWS STEREOPTICON VIEWS

Full Equipment Strapped to Motorcycle; Sleeps Out Doors and Does Own Cooking

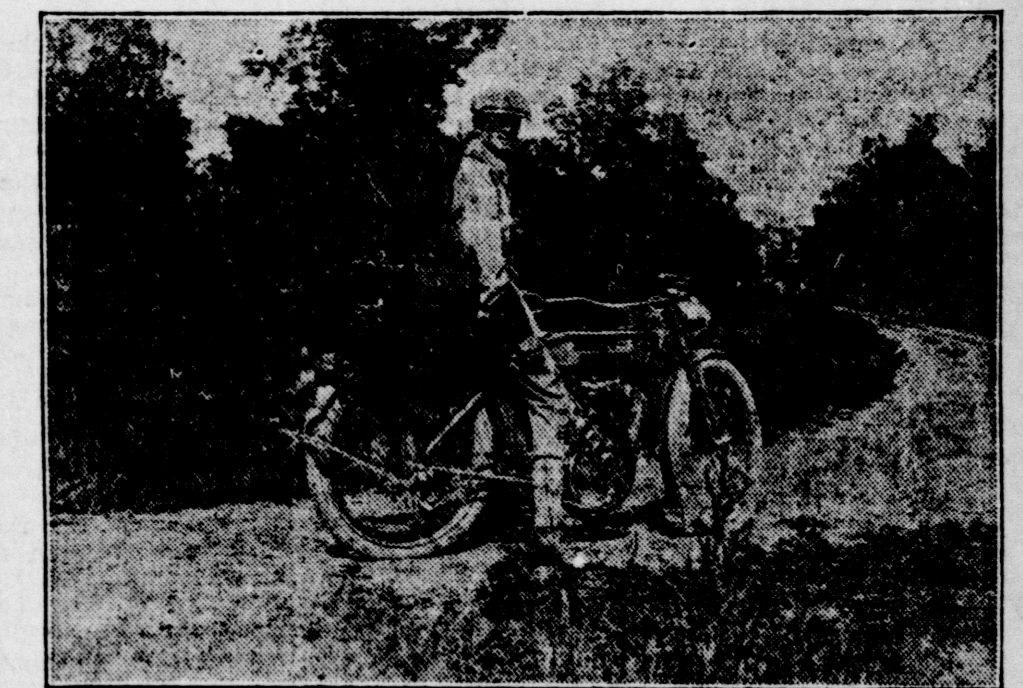

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 31.—(Special.) — Carrying a McIntosh stereopticon lantern and eighty slides, an exhibit of seventeen charts and a complete equipment for sleeping out of doors and doing his own cooking, Mr. Theodore Werle of Milwaukee, field worker of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, is now on a lecture tour of the state, mounted on a Harley Davidson motorcycle which has been pre-almost impossible problem. Last summer Mr. Werle did the same kind of work for the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, taking an exhibit in a wagon, but the cost of keeping a team added to the loss of time in getting from place to place made the expense of this work almost prohibitive. The present means, however, is inexpensive—saving time and making it possible to reach the smallest village or rural school.

Eager to take the gospel of right living and good health to the largest number, Mr. Werle is an energetic and tireless worker. Up with the early bird he may be found at a creamery with his exhibit strung along the fence, explaining it to the farmers as they bring in the milk, teaching them some of the facts and arousing their interest so that they will read the literature which he has to give out.

Noon will find him at the next town, where his exhibit attracts a noonday crowd. He gives a short lecture, passes out literature and is off to a new place in time for his "picture show" and talk, which never fails to attract attention.

This will undoubtedly be another one of the many field where the rest of the country follows the example set by Wisconsin in service to all the people, particularly to the farm-

Theodore Werle about to start on tour of state.

sented to the association for that purpose by a friend of the association.

By this means the educational campaign can be made to directly reach the farmer. Surveys made in Wisconsin and elsewhere, have shown that there is greater amount of tuberculosis in the country, per capita of population, than there is in the city at the present time. Recognizing this, state associations everywhere have been looking for some means of reaching the farmer, but until now it has seemed an

er. It is only one, but it is one of the most important of the many lines of work being carried on by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, with the funds raised by the sale of Christmas Seals.

WILSON LAUGHS AT CLUB STORY

Governor Amused by Tale of His Being Refused Admittance to Manhattan Club

SEA GIRT, N. J., July 31.—The report that friends who had posted his name for membership in the Manhattan club of New York city had been forced to withdraw it because they had been warned that former United States Senator Smith of Newark, N. J., would blackball the application, caused some amusement to Governor Woodrow Wilson today.

The democratic presidential candidate said that today was the first he had heard of the matter. So far as he knew no one had been authorized to propose him for membership in the Manhattan or any other New York club, and he had signed no such application.

The Manhattan is the club at which the governor declined the offer of financial support from Thomas F. Ryan, made by George Harvey and Colonel Henry Watterson, the refusal of which caused the break between Wilson, Harvey and Watterson.

It was reported here today that there will be two vice chairmen instead of one for the democratic national committee to handle the detailed work Chairman McCombs will be unable to take care of. One will be William M. McAdoo, who will have charge of operations in the east.

The other will be the blind senator from Oklahoma, Gore, who will handle the west.

Arrangements for the notification ceremonies here have been perfected. A stand will be erected on the lawn of the "Little White house" for the members of the notification committee. All other guests will take places on the grass, where they can see and hear.

FIRST ATHLETES HOME

ADVANCE GUARD OF VICTORIOUS OLYMPIC TEAM RETURNS TO NEW YORK ON LINER VADERLAND

NEW YORK, July 31.—Twenty-one athletes of the American Olympic team in charge of Trainer Mike Murphy, the entire rifle team, and two members of the revolver team today returned from Stockholm, on the liner Vaderland, the advance guard of the victorious Americans who astonished Europe with their prowess.

Among the athletes aboard were Ira N. Davenport, University of Chicago; Howard P. Drew, Springfield, Mass.; high school; R. L. Bird of Ardian college; James E. Erlehen, M. A. C. St. Louis; Simon P. Gillies and Harry E. Hallowell, N. Y. A. C.; John Paul Jones, Cornell; A. M. Mucks, Oshkosh; Charles D. Reidpath, Syracuse university; Gaston Strobini, St. Louis; L. C. Whitney, Boston; Louis Tewanimma, Carlisle; Hugh F. Maguire, North Attleboro, Mass.; Thomas H. Lilley, North Dorchester A. C.; Harry T. Worthington, Boston A. A.; and James Wendell, N. Y. A. C.

MILITIA AFTER STRIKERS

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 31.—A clash was imminent today between 5,000 armed striking miners and 500 militiamen in the Paint Creek coal district. Shortly before midnight a detachment of the soldiers were fired on from ambush, and three of the guardsmen wounded. Two thousand miners started at dawn over the mountains to Sterling, determined to drive out every private detective guarding mine property. Four hundred soldiers were ordered to follow the trail. The militiamen are handicapped by their lack of knowledge of the rough country.

T. R. SCORES TAFT KANSAS LEADERS

Declares Supreme Court
Case Is Attempt to Deny
People a Voice in Their Government

WOMAN TO BE DELEGATE

Miss Jane Addams to Have Seat in Bull Moose Party's National Convention

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., July 31.—A bitter attack on the Taft leaders in Kansas who have applied to the supreme court for a writ of error in the electors' case was made by Col. Roosevelt today. Roosevelt declared that the Taft men were conspiring in a "wicked effort to twist the constitution to protect privilege against the people," and declared that the proceedings to be brought before Justice Pitney in New York tomorrow could not be defended.

Kansas People Sore
Roosevelt said: "The Kansas people feel that the appeal cannot be successful, and that it is a fresh illustration of the wicked way in which the effort is being made to twist the constitution so as to cause it to protect privilege against the people instead of to protect the people against privilege."

"This is an effort by Mr. Taft's managers in Kansas to use the supreme court in order to deny to the people of Kansas the right to a referendum under the Kansas laws as to what was done in the Chicago convention, Kansas being the only state in the union where such a referendum may be held at a legally conducted primary."

"The Kansas people feel in accord with the formal protest made by Governor Stubbs that if the case is not decided by Thursday the whole primary may be invalidated at Kansas City and printers may be unable to print, and the clerks legally to deliver the ballots for the primary on August 6. The decision is to come later."

Denies People Rights
"Mr. Hill on behalf of Mr. Taft, practically takes the position in his just published defense of the national committee that the people of Washington, California and Arizona have no right to expect their will at the primaries to prevail, contrary to the wish of the 53 irresponsible politicians on the national committee."

Col. Roosevelt corrected an error made by Senator Dixon yesterday when the latter said that John M. Parker of New Orleans, would very likely be selected for permanent chairman of the Chicago convention.

"It is impossible for Mr. Parker to be eligible for this office," said the colonel, "as I learned last night he is to make one of the second speeches."

Roosevelt reiterated his belief that a southerner would be very acceptable as a candidate for the vice-presidency.

MISS ADDAMS A DELEGATE

CHICAGO, July 31.—Miss Jane Addams of Hull House fame will be recognized as a delegate to the progressive republican national convention here next Monday. Announcement of this fact was made this afternoon by Senator Joseph M. Dixon, manager for Col. Roosevelt.

Miss Addams, according to the senator, will represent the suffrage advocates of the party. She will be elected a delegate by the Illinois state convention.

COLONEL CONTROLS NEBRASKA BOARD

LINCOLN, Neb., July 31.—The Nebraska convention of bull moosers, scheduled here for this afternoon, resolved itself into a conference or mass meeting at a local hotel. Most of the Roosevelt leaders, Governor Aldrich included, feel that there is really no need for the third party movement to proceed.

The triumph of the Roosevelt adherents over the Taft faction in yesterday's republican platform convention satisfies the victorious leaders, who say that five of the eight republican electors are for Roosevelt at all hazards; the nominee for state offices are practically solid for Col. Roosevelt, and in addition, the supporters of the colonel are in complete control of the state committee and the party machinery. They assert that the rump convention, organized by Victor Rosewater, former national chairman, and the Douglas county delegation has no standing, as the Taft men cannot by law get a ticket on the November ballot except "by petition," the party label belonging to the Roosevelt wing.

Arthur Ray of York, the third party organizer for Nebraska called the bull moosers together late in the afternoon at the Lindell Hotel, announcing that the only present purpose was to name a delegation of eight to attend the national convention August 5 in Chicago.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 31.—The prohibitionists expect to have a complete county, assembly, senatorial, congressional and state ticket in the field at the fall election. Nominations were made at private ward meetings.

The Sixth, Eighth and Twelfth assembly districts are the only ones in which candidates have not been nominated as yet.

Charles L. Hill of Rosendale will head the ticket as candidate for governor. Joseph V. Collins, Stevens Point has been nominated for lieutenant-governor; H. J. Noyes, Muscoda for secretary of state; Charles Edwards, Ashland, for state treasurer; and Herbert S. Sigelko, Madison, for attorney-general.

JOHN TAYLOR IS HIT BY MOTORCYCLE

While riding a bicycle north on Third street at noon today, John Taylor, son of John W. Taylor, 620 Rose street, was struck by a motorcycle and thrown to the ground sustaining some bad bruises on his hips and knees but they will not prove serious.

Taylor was riding north on Third street while the rider of the motorcycle was coming south. Seeing the motorcycle coming, Taylor turned to his right to get out of the way and at the same time the motorcycle turned to the left. In the collision which followed Taylor was thrown to the ground and he received several bruises in addition to having his bicycle smashed to some extent. The front of the motorcycle was bent somewhat. The rider of the motorcycle left before his name could be learned.

DIVORCED WIFE SUES FATHER'S ESTATE

Mrs. Louise Palmer, divorced wife of Harry Palmer, today filed a claim against the estate of John D. Palmer for $1,651 for six years service as bookkeeper in the office of the Palmer family. According to her testimony in county court today, she acted as bookkeeper in the office of her husband's father during her entire married life. Mrs. Palmer left La Crosse in 1907 and is now residing at Mitchell, S. D.

TO IMPEACH ALIBI

PROSECUTION IN GRACE TRIAL WILL ATTEMPT TO PROVE LETTER FORGERY OF HUSBAND'S SCRIPT

ATLANTA, Ga., July 31.—The prosecution in the Grace trial played its strongest card today, in the effort to establish that Mrs. Daisy Opie Grace attempted to murder her husband. Solicitor Dorsey produced the so-called alibi letter, whose contents have been guarded, but which the prosecution intimated it would attempt to prove was a forgery of Grace's handwriting. This missive, it was said, purported to have been written by Grace on the night of the attempted murder and alleged that he had been delayed in his Philadelphia trip by the arrival of a friend at the Grace home.

The prosecution sought to establish by the testimony of Lewis H. Hill, Grace's half-brother, that this letter had been inclosed in an envelope addressed to Mrs. Grace at Newman, Ga., and this in turn, inclosed in an envelope sent to Mrs. L. S. Hill. The defense fought bitterly, but unavailing against admission of the testimony.

REAL FOUNTAIN OF PUNCH

Provided by a British Officer in 1694
for the Entertainment of Six Thousand Guests.

Some of the papers have recently devoted attention to the origin of punch, that famous seventeenth century drink which has long lost its popularity in this country, though it still survives to some extent in Europe.

Owing to its intimate connection with rum one might easily have imagined that punch originated in the West Indies. In fact, however, it actually came from the East Indies and the name is said to be derived from the Sanskrit "panscha," five, on account of its five ingredients—arrack (afterward rum), tea, sugar, lemon and hot water.

The most magnificent bowl of punch the world has ever seen was probably that provided by the Right Hon. Edward Russell, who, when commanding the British forces in the Mediterranean in 1694, entertained 6,000 guests at Alicante, where a large marble fountain was filled with the liquor, the ingredients being:

Four nogheads of brandy, a pipe of Malaga wine, 2,500 lemons, 20 gallons of lime juice, 8 hogheads of water, 5 pounds of grated nutmeg in weight, 300 toasted biscuits and 12 hundredweight of fine white sugar.

VINCENT OPPOSES RUSSEL D. SMITH

Announces Candidacy for Clerk of Circuit Court Nomination Today

Herbert B. Vincent, 320 North Thirteenth street, for several years an employee in the offices of the Milwaukee Railroad company, today announced his candidacy for the nomination on the republican ticket for clerk of circuit court. His friends are circulating his nomination papers and it is expected that they will be ready to file by Friday.

Although Mr. Vincent has never taken an active part in the politics of the county, he has always shown considerable interest in political affairs and his announcement today was not entirely unexpected. Mr. Vincent is an old resident of this city and has a large following of friends. He will oppose Russell Smith, the present incumbent, at the primaries.

The withdrawal of C. W. Hunt yesterday leaves the democrats without a candidate for this office although it was said today that an effort would be made by the leaders of the party to place a complete ticket in the field at the primaries.

NIPPON SAVES FACE

AMNESTY UPON ACCESSION OF
NEW EMPEROR GOOD EX-CUSE TO GET FROM UN-DER KOREAN MESS

TOKIO, July 31.—The amnesty the ministry of justice is preparing today to signalize Mikado Yoshitito's accession will by including the 123 Koreans on trial at Seoul charged with conspiracy to assassinate Governor General Terauchi of Korea, extricate the Japanese government from a most embarrassing situation.

Most foreigners here believe the Japanese object to American and Canadian missionaries in Korea, and when the police said the accused Koreans' confessions had implicated these missionaries in the plot, there was much suspicion. To silence this suspicion the government decided to try the prisoners publicly. Thus it had no way of hiding it when the prisoners repudiated their confessions in open court, saying they were extorted by torture.

There is a good excuse now for dropping the whole thing. As the foreign critics interpret the situation, the government has failed to oust the missionaries, but it has at least "saved its face."

WILL ANSWER JUDGE

WASHINGTON, July 31.—A spectacular move planned in the impeachment proceedings against Judge Archbald of the commerce court was abandoned today by the seven "prosecutors" of the house judiciary committee.

Instead of demanding Archbald's conviction upon the ground that his answer to the impeachment charges confesses his guilt as a majority of the committeemen favored, the committee voted as the more orderly procedure, to file a formal "replication" to Archbald's answer in the senate tomorrow joining issue, and presenting the case ready for trial. The house this afternoon formally approved this course.

Reiteration of the committee's charge that Archbald has been guilty of "high crimes and misdemeanors," will be the substance of the committee's rejoinder.

MAN UNQUALIFIED TO TESTIFY TO WEDDING

Assuming that George Kalles does not know whether or not he is married, his attorneys made a motion for his discharge from a statutory charge in county court this afternoon because the prosecuting attorney had not introduced records to prove his marriage. Several witnesses testified that Kalles had admitted his marriage, and Mrs. George Kalles declares she is his wife.

Kalles is alleged to have neglected his wife for the smiles of Miss Anna Mattaki, of 1491 Redfield street.

WOULD CUT DOWN EDITIONS

Urges Smaller Issues Less Dependent on Advertising to Insure Freedom

MADISON, Wis., July 31.—Geo. French of the Twentieth Century Magazine, Boston, told the National Newspaper conference today that there are few great papers but thousands of the smaller papers which are the factors in newspaperdom that really mold public opinion and furnish the news for the people.

"There are among them a very small proportion that are venal or dishonest in their presentation of the news," he said. "They are relatively of far more importance in their communities than are the great papers in theirs. Their publishers have learned the lesson that for a publisher of a newspaper there is no policy equal to that which provides for the best good of the whole people, and the square deal."

Mr. French followed Don Seitz of the New York World in a discussion of the question, "How is news affected by (1) The constantly increasing cost of the newspaper plant; (2) The increasing proportion of total newspaper revenue derived from advertising; (3) The non-journalistic interests of the capitalist owner?"

The news policy helps materially to make the big plants necessary, he said, and much less equipment would be required if newspapers did not feel bound to print papers so much larger than the actual news of the day demands, and to issue so many editions of the evening papers. He doubted the publishers' contention that it is the readers who create the demand for frequent editions, and believed a reform in this particular would be approved by a large proportion of readers. Control of the news policy by advertisers is an abuse not as flagrant as it used to be, he asserted, and he predicted the time will come when newspapers can treat advertising as a by-product. Circulation must become more profitable and advertisers more enlightened.

Capitalist ownership of newspapers, he concluded, is not an element of great consequence, though more in evidence in some cities, and he did not think there is enough of controlling absentee-ownership to constitute a condition in newspaper publishing that contributes materially to any degradation of news service that should justify complaint.

PROBE CHILD'S DEATH

CORONER STARTS INQUIRY IN-TO STORY RELATIVES PRAYED INSTEAD OF
CALLING DOCTOR

WAUKEGAN, Ill., July 31.—The coroner today began an investigation into the death of little George Marion, aged 6, son of the once famous George Marion, the actor. The child died, according to the report to the coroner, from injuries received in a fall from a third story window in the home of his grandmother in Zion City. No medical attendance was given the child as he writhed in the agony caused by his fatal hurts, but followers of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, John Alexander Dowie's successor, surrounded the suffering child and prayed.

The coroner was told today that the child died in terrible agony. The grandmother, he was told, was one of those who surrounded the dying child and prayed.

George Marion, father of the dead child, is now serving a life sentence in the penitentiary at Philadelphia for shooting his wife. Until the crime about two years ago, Marion was well known throughout the United States. The actors raised a large fund for his defense when he was convicted of murder.

"What is the matter, anyhow?"

"I only wanted to suggest that when you darn my socks it would be better for me if you would tie the knots on the outside, instead of the inside."

STRIKERS WIN FIGHT

ONE MAN KILLED AND SCORES
HURT WHEN WORKERS
ATTACK STRIKEBREAK-
ERS ON DOCKS

LONDON, July 31.—One man was killed and scores of strikers and strike breakers were hurt in a series of desperate fights at the Victoria, Albert and West Indian docks today. Bricks, clubs, knuckles and revolvers were used freely. At Victoria docks alone, besides one fatally, seriously injured man, and seriously wounded. The hospitals in East London are filled with victims of the battles.

The striking dock workers had the best of the fighting. Taken by surprise, the police were swept aside when they rushed the enclosures back of the docks and failed to get reinforcements to the zones of different riots until everything was over. Everywhere the strike breakers were driven from the docks and scattered.

The strikers have been in a savage mood since their refusal to obey their leader's order, calling the strike off, and more trouble is feared.

DISSOLVE BONE IN THROAT

Use of Lemon Juice at Critical Time
Is a Thing Worth Keeping In Mind.

Sitting at a planked shad dinner in Yonkers, a laughing guest drew a bone into his throat and he began to strangle. Some one suggested that the sufferer swallow a fragment of dry bread.

"Oh, no," exclaimed an Ossining man. "Don't give him bread. It might catch the bone and it might not. Give him something that is sure to give relief." Beckoning to a waiter, he said: "Bring me a lemon, cut in two." And it was brought without delay. Taking one section, he offered it to the choking guest and told him to suck the juice and to swallow it slowly. Directions were faithfully followed, and in about a quarter of a minute the afflicted one placed the half lemon on his plate, looked into the anxious faces around the table and smiled.

"Well, Joe," said one, "how about it?"

"It's gone," was the reply, "the bone has slipped down."

"Not exactly that," said the Ossining man. "The bone slipped down, all right, but it was melted first by the citric acid. I never knew it to fail to dissolve a fishbone. You can test the power of lemon juice by dropping some on the fishbones you may have lying on your plate."

Several diners tried the experiment. In each case the acid reduced the bone to liquid gelatine.

HIS PREFERENCE FOR HOME

Oliver Wendell Holmes Unable to Get Any Real Pleasure in the Vaunted "Tavern."

Don't talk to me about tavern! There is just one genuine, clean, decent, palatable thing occasionally to be had in them—namely, a boiled egg. The soups taste pretty good sometimes, but their sources are involved in a darker mystery than that of the Nile. Omelettes taste as if they had been carried in the waiter's hat, or fried in an old boot. I ordered scrambled eggs one day. It must be that they had been scrambled for by some body, but who—who in the possession of a sound reason could have scrambled for what I had set before me under that name? But! I am wondering why the taverns always keep it until it is old. Fool that I am! As if the taverns did not know that if it was good it would be eaten, which is not what they want. Then the waiters, with their napkins—what don't they do with those napkins! Mention any one thing of which you think you can say with truth, "That they do not do."

Every six months a tavern should burn to the ground, with all its traps, its "properties," its beds and pots and kettles and start afresh from its ashes like John Phoenix-Squibb.

No; give me home, or a home like mine, where all is clean and sweet, where coffee has pre-existed in the berry and tea has still faint recollections of the pigstails that dangled about the plant from which it was picked, where butter has not the prevailing character which Pope assigned to Denham, where soup could look you in the face if it had "eyes" (which it has not), and where the comely Anne or the gracious Margaret takes the place of these napkin bearing animals.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

BURNS IN GRAFT CASE

NEW YORK, July 31.—District Attorney Whitman late yesterday afternoon called in Detective W. J.
Burns and held a conference with him, at which they jointly went over the evidence now in Whitman's hands relating to the police graft situation. This was the first time that Burns had appeared in the case, though previously rumored to have been connected with it. It was reported that "Jack" Rose told Whitman today that his graft collection, turned over to the police, amounted to about $600,000 per year. This he was reported to have said was a low estimate. Rose is now working over definite figures.

SPLIT ON COLOR

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 31.—
Whether the progressive party of Arkansas shall be "Lily White" or "Black and Tan" was the question on which all controversies centered yesterday when the state convention met.
George F. Youman of Fort Smith was selected temporary chairman. Indications are that on a vote

the convention will overrule the
"Lily Whites" and leave the organization open to the negroes.

SEES INDIAN BRANDS

WASHINGTON, July 31.—"Scandalous and fraudulent," was the way Minority leader Mann of the house today denounced provisions of the Indian appropriation bill providing for payment of Indians' attorneys for work upon claims rejected by the court of claims. Mann declared that the attorneys were merely lobbyists.

A TROUBLESOME CRITTER

WORK STOPPED ON LA CRESCENT ROAD

Petition Presented to Council Protesting Against Expenditure of City Funds
in Minnesota

MAY SERVE AN INJUNCTION

Petitioners Threaten Legal Proceedings to Stop Appropriations; Pipe Line
Plans Adopted

Postponement and possible abandonment of plans for the improvement of the La Crescent highway by the city of La Crosse is the result of a petition presented to the city council last night, protesting against the spending of city funds for the improvement of highways in Minnesota. Alderman Burt Smith, who presented the petition declared that signers had intimated their intention of serving an injunction to stop any work by La Crosse in case their petition does not have the desired result. At the last meeting of the city council $5,000 was appropriated for the improvement of the La Crescent road with the understanding that if this proved insufficient to carry the work of completion, further appropriations would be made and that annual appropriations would be made to keep the road in repair.

The matter was referred to the bridge committee and the city attorney. City Attorney A. H. Schubert
when asked his opinion, said he desired to go into the matter farther before rendering a decision but the consensus of opinion is that work can be stopped by an injunction procured by any taxpayer in La Crosse.

The petition was signed by the following: W. T. Summers, 405 North Eighth street; L. G. Parmenter, 709
Avon street; John O. Jones, 433 Summer street; Leopold Huber, 422 Rose street; Alfred Opland, 402 Avon street; Fred Wiggert, 423 Avon street, and E. Johnson, 620 Hagar street.

A similar injunction was threatened by the La Crosse Construction company a year ago following the controversy between that firm and the city over payment of the West Channel bridge, but this was settled by a compromise.

The committee will report at the next regular meeting of the council and the action of the council will be based on the holdings of City Attorney Schubert.

The report of the special water committee appropriating the plans and specifications on the pipe line
to connect the proposed water plant and the city water mains was adopted unanimously.

Much discussion relative to the damaging of pipe through unloading took place. Alderman William Tar-box offered as an amendment to the resolution on the adoption of the report, that all pipe be unloaded by derrick to avoid damage to the pipe.
This was also unanimously adopted.

Alderman William Collins made a motion to reconsider the matter of removing soil from Caledonia street to the lower end for filling in purposes. The motion was carried, whereupon Alderman P. W. Mahoney moved for the adoption of a motion favoring the removal of the soil
to the lower end of Caledonia street.
This was also carried.

A motion to order the cleanup of a blockade at Sixth and La Crosse streets where it is said several piles of junk are piled was referred to the committee on streets and alleys by a vote of 11 to 9.

MARSHALL SECOND

LONDON, July 31.—Marshall, the American chess king, now has fifth place in the international tourney.
Tarrasch of Nuremberg and A. K.
Rubenstein, Russian champion, are tied for first.

Dauss, the pitcher who was with Winona last year, twirled a wonderful game for St. Paul yesterday when he went in in the second inning and held Indianapolis hitless during the remaining rounds, St. Paul winning out 2 to 1. The Indians had scored their only tally before Dauss went to the slab.

After being tried out in a few games by Cleveland and doing poor
work, Harry Krause, the southpaw, formerly with the Athletics, was sent back to Toledo by Manager Harry Davis. Toledo, however, has some of the best left handed slab artists in the American association and it is said that the Naps will probably draft one or two of them.

Charlie O'Day has been signed to manage the Indianapolis team and it is now said that the club has asked for waivers on seven of the Indians as they intend to rebuild their team which has not been putting up a good game this year.

The baseball season is now more than half over and Fred Clarke, veteran leader of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has kept to his determination to retire from the game and not take part in a single combat. Last fall when Clarke announced that he was through as a player his friends thought he was joking but he offered to bet a suit of clothes with each of them that he would not play. All were confident that in a close game he would bat for some player or that he would enter the outfield
when it seemed weak but he has done neither and it now looks as if he will be able to start a clothing store when he collects all his bets.

his breakfast?" "Anything I haven't got in the house."

RUSHFORD, MINN.

with Ludwig Chilson and family.

Dr. and Mrs. Tomasek and children, whose home is at Adrian, Minn., were guests at the Dr. Onsgard home last week, having made the trip by auto.

Oscar Aldahl of Valley City, N. D.,
visited relatives here last week. He was enroute for home from Portland, Ore., where he was sent as a delegate from Valley City.

Mrs. H. H. A. Loeken has been visiting friends at Peterson.

DRESBACH, MINN.

Mrs. Harry Sawyer of Minneapolis is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Jas.
Olmstead.

The old school house has been torn down and work on the new building will commence at once.

Mrs. Myrtle Schlichermer and children, of Galesville, Wis., are visiting the Donaldson families.

The North Ridge team defeated the Dresbach team last Sunday by the score of 6 to 7 on the former's grounds.

Mr. George Nimmo of Mondovi visited his sister, Mrs. John Kramer, Jr., Monday and Tuesday.

The ice cream social at Centennial hall Saturday evening was a decided success financially.

The Martin & Hoyd circus gave two exhibitions Saturday at this place which were witnessed by a large crowd.

Gust School had a narrow escape from drowning Sunday evening while out boat riding.

Misses Isabelle Curtis and Norma Rosebell of Lake City are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Nagle.

I Give All My Shirt Waists a Parowax Bath
—That's Why You Think They Are New

Fine lace-trimmed shirt waists and delicate striped shirts come from a Parowax bath clean, fresh and looking like new.

Parowax gently draws out the dirt from the fabric—no hard rubbing necessary. It makes white clothes snowy white—no yellow tinge on a Parowax washing.

Does not fade or harm the daintiest colors.

Parowax is pure, tasteless, odorless, harmless. Melted Parowax seals fruit jars, catsup bottles, jelly or preserve glasses, absolutely air-tight, so that the contents keep fresh and delicious for several years. Saves hours of hard, hot work in canning time.

Need 50,000 in the Harvest Fields; Railroads Urged to Give Laborers Free Transportation

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 31.—(Special.)—On account of the great scarcity of harvest hands in the northwest and the threatened shortage of help in gathering the immense crop which is now practically assured, railways may be asked to carry men free. Representatives of the state free employment agencies which Minnesota conducts, will try to show the roads that they can better afford to take men to the fields without price than they can to have the harvest go ungathered. The railway laws of Minnesota may however, prevent free rides.

J. H. Wilson of the St. Paul state free employment bureau is quoted as saying that 50,000 men are needed to gather the crops of the northwest and Canada. Men are being sent from as far east as Buffalo, N. Y., through the St. Paul office to harvest fields.

It is expected that the lack of men will be felt more keenly in three weeks, although calls are now coming for men from many sources. In some places they paid as high as $3.50 a day and bankers and business men generally are taking a keen interest in the effort to get men, because they know that the farmer must have help at this time in order to realize the splendid prospects which have excited the imagination of every resident of the northwest this summer. The railways are reporting shortages of men for their own work in the west. A large amount of railway construction is being undertaken north and west of St. Paul and the men who usually can be found in this part of the country are now at work elsewhere.

Laborers are needed at once in South Dakota, 1500 being the number around Watertown alone.

MEN BOLT FOR HARVEST FIELDS

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 31.—A hundred and twenty-five men, hired by the St. Paul road yesterday for section work on the double tracking of the main line in western Minnesota, left Minneapolis last night for Montevideo. Only three of the passengers were on the train when it pulled into Montevideo.

Fifteen hundred men were at work on the St. Paul road between Minneapolis and the South Dakota line Saturday, and the number has fallen to 900. The men have bolted for the harvest fields.

INSANE MURDERER STILL AT LARGE

ST. PETER, Minn., July 31.—Officials of the state hospital for the insane here believe that Bjorn Ostby, the insane murderer, who escaped from the institution a week ago, is either at his home in Duluth or somewhere in that neighborhood. It has been eight days since Ostby escaped, and, though every village marshal in the northern part of the state has been notified to be on the lookout for him, no clue as to his whereabouts has been discovered.

It is, after all, the people who get what they want who have the bitterest griefs to bear. Better to lose and laugh than to win and weep.

WISCONSIN NEWS
DEMOCRATS DUE TO HURRY PAPERS

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 31.—The democrats will have to do some hustling this week if their candidates on the state ticket are to get on the official ballot. Chairman Frank B. Schutz said on Monday that he had received only one-third of the signatures necessary.

The time for receiving nomination papers expires Saturday night at midnight. The papers will therefore have to be mailed or taken to the office of the secretary of state at Madison by some time Saturday, hence there are only four days in which to get the necessary number of signatures and the papers to Chairman Schutz, so he can see to it that they are filed in Madison.

Mr. Schutz would not admit there was any danger of not getting under the wire, but agreed some lively work would have to be done by democrats all over the state in order to make sure that the state ticket is placed on the official ballot.

ARTIST BEGS FOR TIME

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 31.—Conrad Heyd, an artist of note, is dead at his home here, today, aged 74. He begged physicians to prolong his life that he might finish the greatest work he ever attempted, a series of three paintings portraying the coming and going of human life.

GIRL DISAPPEARS

STEVENS POINT, Wis., July 31.—Mystery surrounds the disappearance of Mary Konopp, aged 16 years, the daughter of Mrs. Anton Molko. She left home last Thursday morning. The mother explains there is no reason why the girl should leave, and is inclined to believe she was enticed away. A wide search has been begun.

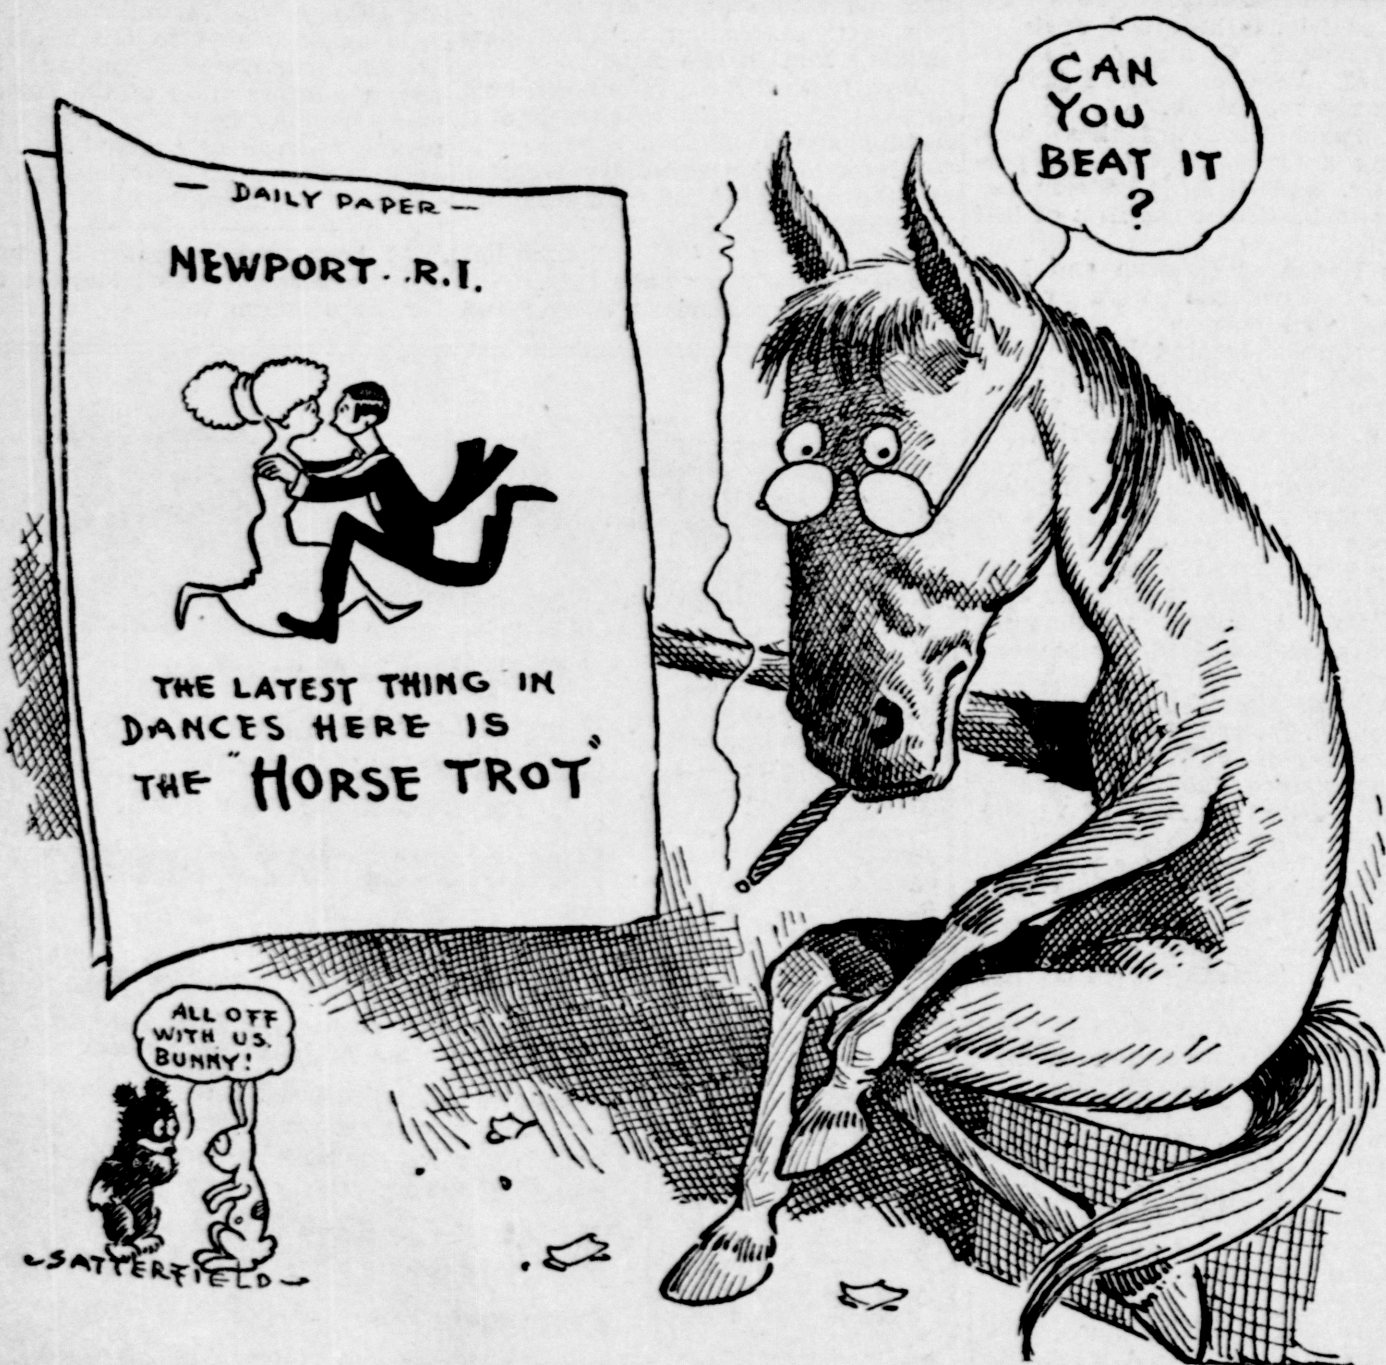

A pig is usually kept in every stable in Persia. It is thought its presence is beneficial to the health of horses.

Specific Blood Poison

Specific Blood Poison is the most insidious of all diseases. It begins usually by a tiny sore which is the only outward evidence of its presence. But down in the blood the treacherous poison is at work and in a short time its chain of symptoms begin to crop out. The mouth and throat ulcerate, skin eruptions break out, sores and ulcers appear on the body, the glands in the groin swell, and sometimes the hair comes out. Mineral medicines cannot cure Specific Blood Poison; they only shut the disease up in the system to smolder and await an opportunity of breaking out afresh. The only possible way to cure the disease is to remove the germs from the blood. S. S. S. goes into the circulation and removes the last trace of the infectious virus, tones up the stomach, bowels, kidneys and all portions of the system, and thus makes a perfect and lasting cure. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks; it does not contain a particle of mineral or other harmful drug. Thousands have cured themselves of Specific Blood Poison by the use of S. S. S. It will cure you if you will give it a trial. Special Home Treatment book and any medical advice free.

AD TO MEET PACKEY

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 31.—Before leaving here today with his wife for Cadillac, Mich., Ad Wogast confirmed his acceptance of terms for a ten round bout in New York with Packey McFarland on September 27. The little champion will receive $22,500 for his end and McFarland will be allowed to weigh in at 135 pounds ringside.

A breach of trust evinces a want of that common principle which keeps human society together.

Gem Worth Remembering.

With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the Nation's wound; to care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widow and orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations.

—Abraham Lincoln.

Real Cause of Quarrel.

The people we dislike and avoid are no more sinners than we are ourselves. Our quarrel is often with their manners, opinions, tempers, rather than with their actual deeds.—Mrs. Alfred Sidgwick.

The Opportunity.

"Here's a new sect started that claims it can cure ills by the laying on of hands."
"I wish it would give demonstrations on the small boy."

SPEAKER BEATS 'EM ALL, SAYS MURRAY

Tris Speaker.

"You can praise Ty Cobb, Joe Jackson and other great outfielders in the big leagues, but none of them is in the class with Tris Speaker of the Boston Red Sox," recently declared Billy Murray, the Pittsburgh scout. "Speaker is the best player on the diamond today. As a batter, fielder, thrower and base runner he has Ty Cobb and others beaten. I have seen all the stars of twenty-five years and Tris is the king."

Chicago Grain Letter

CHICAGO, July 31.—A very tame opening and a subsequent small volume of speculative business characterized the wheat market today. Price changes were insignificant. But the market had a firm underline. July shorts helping by covering. Weather throughout the spring wheat country was reported favorable. Harvesting is under way in South Dakota and southern Minnesota.
The promised rains for the south-

THE PIRATES COP ONE GAME

Pittsburg Gets Only Victory of Series with Philadelphia in Ten Inning Game Yesterday

NATIONAL LEAGUE
NEW YORK 10; Chicago 4
NEW YORK, July 31.—The Giants easily took the final game of the series from the Chicago Cubs yesterday 10 to 4. The locals got right after Lavender and had him on the bench before the second inning was over. Smith who relieved him, weakened in the seventh and four more runs came over in that and the eighth innings. Mathewson went the route easily and was never in trouble. Score: R H E Chicago .001300000—4 9 5 New York .14100013x—10 9 3 Batteries: Lavender, Smith and Archer; Mathewson and Meyers.
Pittsburg 3; Philadelphia 2
PHILADELPHIA, July 31.—Carrey's double which followed Mensor's single in the tenth gave Pittsburg its only victory of the series yesterday 3 to 2. Adams and Rixey pitched great ball but were poorly supported. Score: R H E Pittsburg .0000200001—3 6 2 Philadelphia .0000200000—2 4 1 Batteries: Adams and Gibson; Rixey and Killifer.
Cincinnati 5; Brooklyn 4
BROOKLYN, July 31.—The Cincinnati Reds took their only game of the series yesterday from Brooklyn by a score of 5 to 4. The contest went eleven innings and each side used two pitchers. Score: R H E Cincinnati .00012010001—5 11 4 Brooklyn .00102100000—4 12 0 Batteries: Benton, Suggs and McLean; Stack, Regan and Miller.
Boston 7; St. Louis 6
BOSTON, July 31.—St. Louis fought hard yesterday and was only defeated 7 to 6 in the fourteenth inning. Harmon was batted freely for nine innings but his support was first class. Score: R H E St. Louis 10000200300000—6 12 2 Boston .0200202000001—7 15 4 Batteries: Harmon, Geyer and Wingo; Tyler, Donnelly and Rariden.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

CHICAGO 6; Boston 5
CHICAGO, July 31.—The White Sox saved themselves from utter disgrace by winning yesterday's game from the Boston Reds 6 to 5. Callahan, who was suspended for three days of the series was granted a pardon yesterday and gave a sample of what might have happened had he been on the job throughout the series. He drove in three of the runs and scored one himself. Score: R H E Boston .0000000230—5 10 10 Chicago .02121000x—6 10 1 Batteries: Hall, Pope, Bedient, Carrigan and Nunamaker; Walsh and Kuhn.
Detroit 7; Philadelphia 6
DETROIT, July 31.—Hard hitting and good fielding marked the closing game between the Tigers and the Elephants, the Tigers winning 7 to 6. Score: R H E Philadelphia .001120200—6 13 1 Detroit .003100102—7 10 2 Batteries: Houck and Lapp; Debus and Stange.
St. Louis 5; New York 1
ST. LOUIS, July 31.—The Browns evened up the series with the Yankees by taking the final game yesterday 5 to 1. Roy Mitchell worked for the locals and kept the hits well scattered. Score: R H E New York .0000001000—1 8 2 St. Louis .031000010x—5 11 2 Batteries: Davis and Sweeney; Mitchell and Snell.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Columbus 14; Milwaukee 6
MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 31.—In a game featured by loose fielding, Columbus beat the Brewers 14 to 6 yesterday. Score: R H E Milwaukee .010030200—6 10 7 Columbus .20300702x—14 13 5 Batteries: Hovlik, Marion and

FAN-ATICAL
FANCIES

Ed Konetchy is the most timely hitter on the St. Louis team and he ranks high among the leading batters in the big leagues according to the figures which have just been issued. Koney's war club has driven in forty-seven runs for the Cardinals and in this respect he is tied with Nap Lajoie, the famous Cleveland second baseman. "Home Run" Baker of the Athletics leads both leagues in timely swatting as he has knocked in seventy-eight runs, his closest rival in this line being Larry Doyle of the New York Giants who has brought in seventy-two talons for the National league champions.

It begins to look as if the Boston Red Sox are going to keep up the pace they have set in the American league and the other teams will buy their work out for them in beating them out for the pennant. Right now Washington appears to be the club which will give the leaders the hardest fight for they are playing a whirlwind game and in two days at Cleveland they won a pair of doubleheaders. Connie Mack's Athletics are not going as well as in 1910 and 1911 and it will take a big winning streak to put them up with Boston.

MORAN SORE AT U. S.
NEW YORK, July 31.—Owen Moran, the English fighter, recently disqualified in the fight with Jack White at Los Angeles, leave for England in a few days. He says he was robbed of the decision and is disgusted with his reception in America.

NEW DIRECTOR AT ANNAPOLIS
ANNAPOLIS, Md., July 31.—Surgeon Ralph McDowell, U. S. N., has relieved Surgeon J. A. Murphy as physical director of the United States naval academy. McDowell is former amateur single scull oarsman of the United States.

RECEPTION FOR TRAINER
NEW YORK, July 31.—Mike Murphy, the veteran trainer who coached American winners at the Olympic games was given a reception here today by officers of the Amateur Athletic union.

FLYNN VS. MILLER

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31.—Jim Flynn and Charles Miller, in a 20 round bout, may be the attraction here on Labor day. Promoter Coffroth is in the field for the match and has wired Jack Curley in Chicago relative to the terms Flynn would want to come to the coast.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Callahan, after resting up a while suspended, batted out a victory for the White Sox, in a close contest with the American leaders. He drove in two runs with a triple, and later scored after making a clean single.
Big Ed Walsh allowed ten hits, but was consistently supported.
Matty saved the face of the Giants by winning the final clash of a four game series with the Cubs.
The Cubs crossed over from Manhattan or Long Island today well satisfied with having taken three out of four from McGraw.
It took fourteen innings to settle the contest when St. Louis piled up three runs in the ninth, tying the score. Singles by Sweeney and Kling finally won for the Braves.
After dropping seven straight the Reds beat Brooklyn five to four.
Allowing Cobb and Crawford to walk, for fear they would break up the game, resulted disastrously for Houck, and the Tigers beat the Champs, 7 to 6.
The Browns refrigerated the game in the first inning.
